'Limited Emergency'

Manitobans Braced For Worst

WINNIPEG (CP)—Manitoba is bracing for what could be the surging Red River's worst flooding since the 1950 disaster.

Premier Duff Roblin told the legislature Thursday he has declared the province in a "limited state of emergency."

Waters, Winds Hit Anew

(From UPI, AP)

The twin cities of St. Paul and Minneapolis braced themselves today as the Mississippi River neared its highest flood crest on record, while to the south in Tennessee new tornadoes churned up death and damage in Tennessee and Alabama.

At St. Paul the Mississippi was expected to crest tonight or Saturday at 27 feet—13 above flood stage—and to hold that level for several days. The predicted Minneapolis crest is 21 feet, five above flood level.

EMERGENCY

Both cities are in states of emergency, and a river specialist says the long crest means dikes and bridges will be subject to "considerable wave action" and pounding from ice.

The Redwaters have also engulfed sections of Wisconsin, Illinois, Iowa and North Dakota. Two persons were killed, at least 80 injured and about 200 left homeless as tornadoes thundered through Tennessee's Cumberland Mountains, crushing buildings "like a giant hand."

First Time in 20 Years

SAANICH TAX GOING DOWN!

By GARY OAKES

Saanich ratepayers will enjoy a cut in municipal taxes this year—believed the first reduction in 20 years.

Council's finance committee unanimously approved chopping the mill rate by half a mill to 27.4 mills Thursday night in the last of two budget meetings.

The cut will mean a saving of about $2.50 to the average homeowner or one per cent of taxes in the vicinity of $250.

However, ratepayers will probably have to pay more school taxes this year as councillors are expecting a two-mill boost.

But the $15 increase in the homeowner's grant will more than offset any increase for the average ratepayer.

Municipal comptroller John Tribe and finance chairman Leslie Passmore recalled that Saanich last had a tax cut about 1945.

Since then the mill rate has soared, almost doubling in the past 10 years.

Committee members worked about 3 hours Thursday to trim $118,000 off the budget and add $80,000 for a net saving of about $38,000, leaving the budget near an even $1,000,000. It goes before council for formal approval Tuesday.

Partnership

Germany Wants To Join Family

WASHINGTON (UPI)—West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt has urged the West to declare Germany a full partner in the family of nations on May 8, when it celebrates VE Day.

He told a National Press Club luncheon Thursday he believed East Germany and the Russians would use the 20th anniversary of the end of the Second World War to launch a major anti-Western propaganda offensive.

CONFUSE THINGS
This propaganda would employ memories of the great conflict in an attempt to "confuse things" for the German people and the Western allies, he said.

To counteract "the negative consequences of a dreadful past," Brandt said, the West would do well to present a view that would mark Germany's place in the future. He said such a declaration would be important for the younger generation.

ENVOYS MEETING

Ambassadors of the United States, Britain, France and Germany have been meeting regularly in Washington to discuss such a declaration. It was understood that France has not agreed to the idea.

To Work Among Poor

2,000 Youth Called For Canada's War on Poverty

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Pearson, a remarkably young-looking 67, said on the eve of Good Friday that he hopes at least 2,000 young Canadians will offer themselves for field work among the poor and uneducated at home and abroad.

He told a press conference that there has been a wide and warm response from youth and church groups and others to the government's plan for forming a Company of Young Canadians.

In a year or two, he said, he hoped there would be 1,000 Canadian youths working in developing countries alongside some 600 members of the volunteer organization known as Canadian University Students Overseas and another 1,000 in the Canadian north and "other places" in this country.

IN TRADITION
He said he thinks the name Company of Young Canadians is a fine one. It was in the tradition of the Company of Adventurers trading into Hudson Bay and the Company of Associates in settlement of French Canada.

He announced formation of an organizing committee under the secretaryship of political scientist Duncan Edwards, 29, a special assistant to External Affairs Minister Martin. A director and permanent staff would be chosen soon.

COMBAT POVERTY
Mr. Pearson, who will be 68 next Friday, said the Company of Young Canadians will be one means of combatting poverty in Canada.

Development of a general anti-poverty campaign would be undertaken by a special cabinet committee with himself as chairman and assisted by a full-time staff of half a dozen headed by Tom Kent, the prime minister's $25,000-a-year policy co-ordinator. Labor Minister MacEachen will be vice-chairman of this cabinet committee.

The committee would analyze existing federal measures designed to provide better economic and social opportunities. Continued on Page 3

Unwitting Girl Assists In Bizarre Suicide

BLANDFORD, England (UPI) — Police Thursday investigated the bizarre case of an amateur photographer who apparently planned his own death and filmed it with the aid of an unsuspecting teen-aged girl.

Police said John Downey, 29, a teacher, artist and amateur photographer, was found shot to death Wednesday night in an isolated, rundown house known as "Rendezvous Cottage" in the Dorset countryside. Beside his body was a German-made camera on a tripod and a .22-calibre pistol.

Downey had been shot several times and there were bullet marks on the floor. Police said a 16-year-old girl, Lindsay Elaine Riggs, shot Downey unwittingly after he persuaded her to help him take pictures of a shooting incident to illustrate a book. She told detectives he assured her the pistol contained only blanks.

GIRL RELEASED

After being questioned all night, the girl was released to her parents, who were called to Blandford police station. Her mother said later, "the police have told me that my daughter is absolutely blameless."

The first word of the shooting came Wednesday night when Miss Riggs stumbled into farmer Arthur Wren's home at Mapperton Village, near Almer, sobbing and pleading for help. Mrs. Wren related Miss Riggs' story.

"She told us," said Mrs. Wren, "that a girl was writing a book in which there was a scene where a girl shoots a man. A photograph of the incident was needed for the book and she had arranged to go with Downey to the cottage so that one could be taken."

AUTHOR MISSING

"The girl who was writing the book was supposed to go with them but hadn't turned up. The girl went on to tell us how she and Downey reconstructed the scene and how in the course of this Downey had been shot."

Mrs. Wren added: "The girl told us she had known Downey all her life and that their two families were friends. She also said that Downey had talked several times about taking his life and that recently he had been told by a fortune teller he would be involved in a terrible accident. The girl told us she didn't want to take part in the photographic scene but was urged to do so by Downey."

ried and had two small children. He will be buried Saturday in Kelowna.

Palbearers and honor guard will be members of the Kelowna RCMP detachment. Present will be assistant commissioner D. O. Forrest from provincial RCMP headquarters in Victoria.

Const. Bruce is the fourth RCMP constable in three years to be shot dead in British Columbia.

Spears, known to be an experienced woodsman, is believed by RCMP in the Okanagan to have holed up in the wild country near Black Canyon.

But police say that by this time, he could be anywhere. He is being sought in the northwestern United States, as well as in Canada.

RCMP say he has been reported sighted many times in the Okanagan Valley, but say jittery residents are reporting any strangers they see.

"They reported me," said an RCMP officer Thursday, "and I'm 6-foot-3 inches tall. The man we want is 5-foot-4."

WONT STAY HOME

George Webber, the fruit farmer who made the original complaint to RCMP, said Thursday he will not stay in his home at night.

Mr. Webber said he notified RCMP after his 14-year-old son told him about a man trying to "corner" him in Black Canyon. Mr. Webber said the boy told him a girl called out to him and he approached the cabin, and then a man emerged and ordered her inside.

Mr. Webber said the two constables left their cruiser in his yard and instructed him to stand by the radio while they went to the cabin.

Const. Jones stationed himself atop a roadside bluff, and Const. Bruce walked down the trail to the cabin, said Mr. Webber.

After the shooting, Mr. Webber could not operate the radio, and Const. Jones had difficulty, he said.

"Then I saw someone staggering up the trail yelling for help," he said.

"At first I thought it was the constable, there was so much blood. I started to run over that way, and I saw it was a girl. She was all blood, all over her face. Her sweater was soaked with it."

assess the extent and nature of the problems of poverty; develop plans for further federal action; and consult with the provinces so that federal and provincial plans in this field are co-ordinated.

The secretariat would come into official existence Tuesday. It was hoped it could draw on the advice of business, labor and the universities and obtain experts from these sources on temporary assignment.

END OF MAY

Mr. Pearson said he expects the new Canada Assistance Plan will be in its final form for presentation to a federal-provincial conference of premiers at the end of May and that legislation can be introduced in the Commons at the current session.

The whole idea was "less poverty, more work, greater opportunity."

Mr. Pearson said many young Canadians are eager to give their services to the "community."

"The enthusiasm and ideas of youth are the vital things and we want to catch those qualities."

Mr. Pearson said the government is giving $500,000 to the Canadian University Students Overseas because this organization was doing good work—it hoped to have 600 youths overseas by September—and needed assistance. The Company of Young Canadians would draw on its experience.

Flood Equal to 1948 Feared

"We have a well-defined emergency flood plan," Mr. Roblin said. "If we don't get rain or snow, the situation will be manageable."

Red River, swollen by runoff from the south, continued its ominous rise Thursday. At 3 p.m. the level at the James Avenue pumping station in Winnipeg stood at 19 feet above average winter ice level, an increase of half a foot in seven hours.

Flood crest, expected April 24, is forecast at 24 feet. Primary dikes protect the city to a level of 26½ feet and can be built up if necessary.

BOLSTER DIKES

Mr. Roblin told the legislature consideration is being given to heightening the dikes and "I am inclined to think it is necessary."

In 1950, the crest hit 30.3 feet. Winnipeg city council met in emergency session and approved an interim appropriation of up to $100,000 for protection of flood-threatened property in the city.

Mayor Stephen Juba said action already has been taken to thwart flooding in various sections.

A provincial flood control centre was set up Thursday in the legislature building at Winnipeg. It will operate 24 hours a day, supervised by a cabinet minister. Armed forces were put on the alert.

GRAIN TRANSFER

Stored grain will be removed from the Emerson-Morris area with the co-operation of the railways and the Canadian Wheat Board. Measures are in hand to move livestock, Mr. Roblin said, and industries in the two towns are being checked to see what equipment can and should be moved.

Morris town council held an emergency meeting Thursday night and set up an evacuation and information committee.

URGENT APPEAL

Reeve John Hunter of Franklin municipality, just north of Emerson, issued an urgent appeal for assistance of anyone on high ground who could offer space to farmers in the flood-threatened Red River Valley to store seed grain and livestock.

Most urgent efforts are being directed at Elm Park in St. Vital, which is located on a long, narrow loop of the Red and bore the brunt of the 1950 flood.

Dikes there will be "taxed to the limit," Mr. Roblin said.

FROM MINNESOTA

The Red, a big but placid stream most of the year, grew to its present menacing proportions at its Minnesota headwaters. Precipitation in the Red River basin during April was six times normal.

Its strength is mounting as it rolls northward through North Dakota to Manitoba and its eventual outlet in Lake Winnipeg. At Grand Forks, N.D., 80 miles south of Emerson, it already has flooded out more

Your Good Health

Mental Illness Danger Signs Often Difficult to Recognize

By JOSEPH MOLNER, M.D.

(This is the fourth of a series of articles dealing with mental health.)

By now the question will have arisen in some readers' minds: "How do you know when you have an emotional problem?"

Sometimes it is as obvious as a broken leg. Other times it can be as puzzling as deciding, from certain symptoms, whether you have gall bladder disease, heart trouble, muscle aches, or plain old stomach-ache. Don't think this is easy, because it isn't.

DANGER SIGNS

If someone close to you has a radical change in temperament; or changes from being normally interested in other people and becomes chronically secretive and wants to avoid contact; or becomes perpetually gloomy and down in the dumps and is not concerned with anything—these are a few danger signs that can be serious. Others are more immediately obvious.

Strangely enough, even today, a good many people don't become very alarmed, or not sufficiently alarmed to ask the doctor about it, until the patient is hearing strange voices, is imagining that everybody else is plotting against him, or is threatening suicide.

Authorities agree that the 17,000 suicides reported each year are only part of the total number. Probably 10 times as many people threaten or attempt suicide.

ADMIT THEY EXIST

What about the more numerous but less serious emotional problems? Before we can do anything about them, we have to admit that they exist. After that we have to get busy and correct them.

Let's take the case of the emotionally wound-up individual whose physical symptoms might be any of those we've already mentioned, or some that we haven't.

The doctor finds no physical cause for the complaint but tactfully suggests that if the patient will change his attitude towards life, or correct his living habits, or learn to be calm, he will lay the groundwork for a cure.

RESENTFUL

It's almost a comic-strip bromide by now, but the patient goes away musing resentfully, "The doctor said it was all in my head. But I really feel these pains. Why doesn't he DO something for me?"

That conflict comes rather close to being typical of a recurring condition. Emotional turmoil can do strange things to us, but because we have learned to think in physical terms, we blind ourselves to this important aspect of human health. Some pills may help, but can't by themselves cure ills that grow from emotional disturbances.

Near Hanoi

Reds Building Missile Site

WASHINGTON (AP)—A site for launching Soviet-made anti-aircraft missiles is being built near the North Vietnamese capital of Hanoi, according to reports reaching Washington. U.S. sources said Thursday night they have no evidence that Soviet rockets have been shipped to the site, but presumably the hardware will follow once the launching pads are completed. Moscow has been promising aid to North Viet Nam and U.S. officials have been speculating that it would be in the form of anti-aircraft defence. The Russians are said to have put 24 anti-aircraft missile sites in Cuba, which now are Cuban-managed. The Russian surface-to-air missiles are capable of shooting down planes from very high altitudes. One shot down the U-2 plane flown by Francis Gary Powers over Russia in 1960 at some 80,000 feet. Another brought down a U-2 over Cuba during the 1962 missile crisis. Introduction of ground-to-air missiles to North Viet Nam would bring a new element to the Viet Nam conflicts, both militarily and politically.

Pearson Conducting Talent Search?

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Pearson may have begun a search for two new federal cabinet ministers — one from Quebec and one from Ontario. Reliable sources here say Postmaster-General Rene Tremblay may have to retire from federal politics. He is undergoing his second period in hospital in two months. A blood clot has been found in one lung. Speculation also is heard here that Miss Minister Bendickson may be appointed to the Senate. Mr. Bendickson, 54-year-old Kenora, Ont., lawyer, has been an MP for 20 years for the Northern Ontario constituency of Kenora-Rainy River. He is a former parliamentary assistant to the minister of finance in an earlier Liberal administration and entered the Pearson cabinet in 1963. Mr. Tremblay's illness has resulted in Immigration Minister Nicholson, former postmaster-general, assuming his old duties for an indefinite period. The two men switched portfolios in a cabinet shuffle Feb. 22. Mr. Tremblay had occupied the immigration portfolio for a year. Mr. Tremblay, 42, has been a controversial figure in recent months. He was criticized by the opposition late last year for furniture purchases without payment from a company which later went bankrupt.

Child Killed

Tragedy Continues To Haunt Family

TORONTO (CP)—Tragedy has lengthened a string of misfortunes that followed a Nova Scotia couple who came here three years ago to obtain special treatment for one of their four children. The youngest child of Fred Nash, 28, and his wife Cathy is to be buried in Montreal today. Three-year-old Kim was killed by a school bus Wednesday.

Kim and Ricky, 5, had been sent to Montreal until the family could pull itself together financially after Mr. Nash's back was broken in a January hockey accident at Port Credit.

NEAR HOSPITAL

The Nashes moved to Port Credit from Halifax to be near the Hospital for Sick Children in Toronto, where Ricky could be treated for a hole in his heart, webbed feet and two thumbs on each hand. Ricky's last medical examination showed his heart is healing itself.

Mrs. Nash meanwhile has supported the family by working the midnight shift in a hospital here. Her husband was released from hospital a week ago.

Kenya to Get Russian Arms

NAIROBI (AP)—Kenya has signed an agreement with the Soviet Union for a gift of arms. Defence Minister Njoroge Mungai announced Wednesday night. He said the shipment is expected soon. "The arms are going to be beneficial to Kenya and will not be used for external invasion," he said.

Bombers 'Saturate' Viet Cong Base

SAIGON (Reuters)—An armada of American and South Vietnamese planes, flying from dawn to dusk Thursday, methodically "saturated" a Communist Viet Cong jungle base in South Viet Nam.

Do or Die Overdone

MONTREAL (CP)—A former Progressive Conservative MP Wednesday suggested Parliament's rules be changed so that a government could only be defeated on a special motion calling for its resignation. Egan Chambers said that once a party leader becomes prime minister he becomes a "virtual dictator."

He said that if a government proposal could be defeated without defeating the government itself, it would give the opinions of the members and their constituents the importance they deserve.

WHALLEY (CP)—Fire Wednesday destroyed an auto-body repair shop and disrupted traffic on the Trans-Canada Highway here. Two firemen were injured fighting the blaze, but not seriously. Eleven cars in the building were destroyed.

The series of air strikes was the biggest so far on any guerrilla targets in North or South Viet Nam.

About 230 bombers and fighter planes dropped nearly 1,000 tons of bombs on an area about six miles square, 70 miles northwest of Saigon.

There was speculation the raids were triggered by a report that the base was the headquarters of the South Vietnamese National Liberation Front, political arm of the Viet Cong.

In another strike more than 20 U.S. Air Force jets flew an armed reconnaissance mission along two roads in North Viet Nam and bombed a jetty in a river about 120 miles southwest of Hanoi.

North Viet Nam meanwhile denounced the first night air raid on North Viet Nam carried out Wednesday night by U.S. and South Vietnamese planes. Senator Thomas Dodd (Dem. Conn.), a member of the Senate foreign relations committee, war.

Grim Yard Outlook

THE FUTURE of the shipbuilding industry in Canada is not considered to be bright according to the president of Burrard Dry Dock Company Limited, and its subsidiary Yarrows Limited.

President Clarence Wallace in his annual report to shareholders of the B.C. firm said 1964 profits had shrunk to only a sixth of what they were in 1963, and said that the chances of anyone placing an order for a new ship were remote until such time as the government indicated what its shipbuilding policy would be.

The shipbuilding industry in Canada during the past four years has been greatly stimulated by a federal government subsidy which enabled Canadian owners to claim up to 40 per cent relief of building costs on the Canadian content that went into their ships.

The government in February suspended this subsidy, and the future of the Ship Construction Assistance Regulations Act depends upon a review of the situation being made by a government committee.

As nothing hurts business more than uncertainty, the shipbuilders are quite correct in assuming that until a final decision is given no new contracts for the yards can be expected.

If the regulations are eventually dropped or amended then at least the shipping fraternity—both owner and builder—will know how they stand and some firm decisions can be made for the future.

Unfortunately government committees often take a great deal of time in their deliberations, and it will be a serious blow to the B.C. shipbuilding industry—one of Victoria's biggest employers of labor—if this is allowed to happen in this case.

Surely it would have been much better Ottawa policy if it had set its committee to work on the regulations before suspending the subsidy. In this way the hiatus now created would have been avoided.

Nor has government procrastination in outlining its own shipbuilding policy for defence and other vessels, given any encouragement to the shipbuilders to feel that at least some orders from this source may help them maintain their positions.

Once the ships now under contract are completed, the future for the yards will lie in repair and maintenance work, or in possible diversification into other spheres of activity.

It is not a pleasant prospect.

Not Quite Too Late

MAYOR WILSON is showing a commendable eagerness to press ahead with the regional parks plan that has been mooted for Greater Victoria and its neighboring areas, and to this end hopes to arrange a meeting of intermunicipal leaders and Recreation Minister Kiernan soon.

Quick action certainly would seem to be needed if the plan is to be turned into a reality in time to bear material fruit this year.

In the initial stage, lasting presumably for several years, the main aim of the regional parks organization (whether it is a board specifically established for this purpose or the joint services administration envisaged for the district by the municipal affairs minister) would be the acquisition of land of recreational and scenic value that is ever in growing danger of being lost to private development. For the most part, improvement would come later.

Money for a start on such a program, on a sharing basis, will be available from the provincial government this year. The question is whether the municipalities of the district can come to an accord soon enough to take advantage of the government's offer, or whether the 1965 progress in this direction will be confined to coming to terms or trying to do so.

There is little time left before municipal budgets are irrevocably set for the year. But it is not yet quite too late for the councils to agree in principle and accordingly, to add the one mill to their tax rates that would be necessary to match fully the provincial contribution and produce a total of $300,000 or more for expenditure on securing park land for the common benefit of all who live in the capital region. It would be a pity if the opportunity were lost simply for lack of a concentrated effort.

Dubious Claim

THE GENTLEMAN who organized the "children's strike" in three Saskatoon schools, Mr. Ernest Bourgault, as a protest against an old provincial law that says classroom instruction must be in English, would appear to be on boggy ground when he maintains:

"If children are not allowed to use a language (French, in this instance) in grade 1 and 2 they will lose it."

If he could be persuaded to look, for example, at Victoria schools he would discover that instruction in English in no way hinders the cultivation of Chinese, for example. There would seem to be no foundation for the application of his argument here.

Moreover, other European ethnic groups appear to preserve satisfactorily the tongues of their native lands and they continue to enjoy certain aspects of the old country's culture. Yet all are taught in English.

What, in fact, is happening is that in far the greater number of cases the children of immigrants mature in the possession of two tongues.

In the case of scores of Chinese families, not only have the second and third generation children the advantages of two languages, but they are frequently in the top brackets when the scholastic results are counted.

Incidentally, the assistant separate schools superintendent in Saskatoon is a Mr. Walter Podiluk. One wonders if he still possesses the language of his ancestors. It would be a good bet that he does in spite of having been taught in English.

Painful Process

MR. C. A. GAUTHIER (Roberval): . . . It is unthinkable that no government over the past 97 years felt the need to improve the beginning period of a session. Has it ever occurred to anyone that it was urgent to shorten this tedious period? Will an end ever be put to all these repetitions which are such a waste of the time of the House?

Is there anything more painful than to drink even though one is no longer thirsty?

A Need for Leadership

Co-operation Is Side-Track

By HOWARD GREEN
Former Secretary of State for External Affairs

WE seem to be moving into a world in which power is replacing co-operation as the outstanding factor.

Two indications of this change are the decline in effectiveness of the United Nations and the diminishing influence in world affairs of the small nations.

These two developments are related. The United Nations provides the only forum in which small nations can hope to influence world opinion. Inevitably they must advocate co-operation rather than force because they will benefit from a world at peace but face disaster in a world at war.

When the 1964 General Assembly folded up a few weeks ago leaving most of its business undone one of the worst results was the silencing of the voices of these small nations. Until September when the 1965 General Assembly is to meet the great powers will dominate world affairs unchanged.

This was one reason that middle powers like Canada to which the small nations look for leadership in the Assembly should have demanded that the business on hand be dealt with before ending the session. As things stand these middle powers too will have little chance to make their voices heard until the fall.

Naturally the great powers need not worry. They can get along very well without the United Nations during the intervening period and they give every indication that this is exactly what they intend to do.

For example the United States is not taking the Viet Nam question before the world body and is not encouraging any other nation to do so. The Soviet Union is disinterested in continuing negotiations in the disarmament committee. Red China is busy lining up support in Asia and Africa against the Americans and the Russians.

Unbelievable as it may seem the year 1965 which had been declared "International Co-operation Year" is turning out to be "Naked Power Year."

Fortunately the preponderance of power is with the United States and Secretary of Defense

MaoNamara has stated recently that there is no possibility of the Russians narrowing the gap in the next few years. He also believes that they are no longer trying; presumably they are now satisfied with second place in the power world. Certainly the vitriolic verbal attacks by Soviet leaders seem to be directed against the Red Chinese as often as against the Americans.

The Chinese in turn must be learning that our neighbor is no "paper tiger" as they have been proclaiming for many years. Clearly they cannot make their country a competitor of the United States either in the military or the economic field.

However, they are seeking power in other ways. Their main objective seems to be to become the leader of the non-white countries; if they succeed this would in the long run give them tremendous power.

Much Left Undone

China Tidies Borders

By G. S. WARREN
From Hong Kong

COMMUNIST China is making another stab at tidying up her borders. Foreign Minister Chen Yi is giving it priority treatment despite American bombing missions over North Viet Nam which get closer each day to the Chinese mainland.

The new protocols that Marshal Chen has signed with Pakistan and Afghanistan point less to what Communist China has been able to accomplish in regularizing her borders than to what is still left undone. After more than 15 years, the People's Republic of China has settled her border differences with only five out of 12 neighboring countries—with Burma, Nepal and Mongolia. Pakistan and Afghanistan still left for negotiation are the borders with Korea, the Soviet Union, Viet Nam, Laos, India and the two states under India's protection, Sikkim and Bhutan.

Communist China likes to wrap up her border aims in mystery. Her maps have changed silently without notice and official statements frequently carry ominous hints of claims to be pressed some time in the unspecified future.

If there has been any factor that has been consistent in Peking's border policy it is that Communist China looks for settlements only when there is pressure in other areas. Time makes little difference. Burma tried for seven years to get her border with China regularized and accomplished it only in 1961 in the backlash of the Indian border dispute. The Indian border crisis was also the pivot for getting Nepal's border settled after three years of negotiations. Mongolia began negotiations in the wake of the Sino-Soviet dispute in 1962 and signed her final border protocol with China only last July.

It was against the dual pressures of the Indian crisis and the Sino-Soviet quarrel that both Pakistan and Afghanistan started their negotiations with China that have just been concluded. Whether the Viet Nam dispute was instrumental in speeding the settlements must be left to speculation.

But even signed border settlements do not mean that troubles vanish for China's neighbors. Following last year's conclusion of negotiations with Mongolia there were reports of Chinese troops on Mongolia's border.

This brought an official statement from Ulan Bator, the capital of Mongolia.

event Canada is one of the countries most likely to be devastated.

Why do Canadians not see this possibility? Why does our government not give energetic leadership directed at restoring co-operation as the main objective of the nations by their great, middle or small powers?

Many other countries would join in such a crusade; Britain for example and the Scandinavian countries; also the leading nations of Latin America and influential nations in Asia like Japan and India as well as Nigeria and Ethiopia in Africa both of which have done useful work at the sittings of the disarmament committee in Geneva.

At present co-operation among the nations is side-tracked. It may well become a memory unless strong leadership is given to promote it. The world needs another Prime Minister Nehru at this juncture. His voice would have been heard and he would have been able to prevent the faltering of the United Nations.

The tragedy of this whole situation is that a power-mad world is bound to erupt into violence sooner or later. If and when that happens civilization may well be destroyed. In any

Fighting Our War

It is distressing to read in the press many condemnations of American action in Viet Nam. The frequent question is, "What is America doing in Viet Nam?"

America is fighting for us, the Western world, against international Communism. America is fighting our war. Perhaps some of your readers can state what Russia is doing in Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Rumania, Lithuania, Latvia, Estonia, Bulgaria, Poland.

What is China doing in Tibet, Albania, North India, North Korea, Northern Malaya, North Viet Nam and Africa? Sir Roy Welensky told us here in Victoria a few days ago how Communism (Chinese) is penetrating Africa. Sir Roy has lived in Rhodesia many years and understands the political situation.

Prime Minister Sir Robert Menzies knows Australia is next on the list for Chinese infiltration, if they are successful in conquering Southeast Asia. Sir Robert realizes America is fighting Australia's war against aggression and he has expressed his appreciation in the press.

If Viet Cong guerrillas enter a village in South Viet Nam and murder the entire community, or put a bomb in the streets of Saigon and thus kill many innocent people, it is not murder. In Communist expression, it is "liberation."

We are told there are no Chinese in North Viet Nam. It would be interesting to know how Ho Chi Minh keeps them from crossing the border.

Having served in the two major wars and one small war, one realizes the folly and devastation of all war. However, having seen the abject misery, murder, brutality and cruelty of Communist infiltration (liberation), the latter is probably the greater of the two evils.

The Western world is fully aware the greatest imperialists and aggressors in the world today are the Communist leaders. Mao Tse-tung has frequently stated his great ambition is world violent revolution. Can the Western world any further confirm the intentions of the Chinese Communists?

The outstanding ability of the Communists is their propaganda. They are able to commit aggression and horrible atrocities and so twist the truth we are apt to believe we, the West, are the aggressors. This is exactly what they have done in Viet Nam. Communists are so happy when they are handing out punishment, but when they get hurt they yell "imperialism!"

The West must try and sort out the true facts from Communist propaganda.

ANTI-AGGRESSION.

U.S. Promises

President Johnson's determination to keep U.S. promises in Viet Nam will seem more convincing when he remembers to keep the promise made publicly by his country's government in 1954 to "refrain from the use or threat of force" to disturb the Geneva Conference agreements.

In less than three months after these agreements were signed, the U.S. under President Eisenhower began a program of setting up and maintaining a puppet government in South Viet Nam, which program they have continued to follow until the present in direct violation of the Geneva agreements and in opposition to the will of the Vietnamese people. General Eisenhower, in his memoirs, confesses to opposing the elections promised by the Geneva agreements, giving as reason that every expert he consulted agreed that if an election were held at least 80 per cent of the people of both North and South would vote for the coalition under Ho Chi Minh.

The present war being waged by the U.S., which President Johnson admitted is one of "unparalleled brutality," is not against the aggression of China, as he intimated, but against the desperate, freedom-hungry people of Viet Nam, who are in turn fighting the terror, the oppression, the monumental injustices of the U.S. occupation with its puppet dictatorships.

If the U.S. is sincere in its desire for peaceful co-operation let it demonstrate its sincerity by immediately recognizing and instituting negotiations with the government of mainland China, and then devote its resources and influence toward reorganizing the United Nations to the point that it can operate effectively in settling international disputes and in preventing armed violence between nations.

PAUL B. LE BARON,
334 Stansard Ave.

It is not so much what is said in this statement, as what the hon. minister does not say. For implicit in his statement is the fact that there are some very basic reasons for Canada's failure to condemn U.S. aggression.

And there are no reasons so basic as economic ones. And it is precisely these economic reasons to which Mr. Martin so obviously refers. The reason believing the economic control of Canada by the United States.

And it is here, around the issue of war implicit in the Viet Nam crisis, that we see for Canada the link between economics and politics. Where the foreign domination of our economy also places the political life of our nation under virtual foreign domination.

However, because of the danger of the involvement of Canada and indeed the whole world in an unjust American war, Mr. Pearson and the government must be made to insist that Washington get out of Viet Nam and leave the people there to solve their own problems.

In turn, the responsibility of the whole Canadian people is to demand an end to the foreign economic control of our country which renders us so politically sterile.

Compulsory Tests

I wish to thank the fourth estate and all those who have helped my small campaign against the drunk who drives—especially the safety councils and auto associations without whose help and advice I could not have continued.

At the risk of becoming a colossal bore, I would like to clarify once more my aim: I simply want a test for suspected drunk drivers.

The Canadian Bar Association deserves great credit for the progressive stand which its committee has recommended and which has apparently been approved by a substantial majority of its members. It is now up to the justice department in Ottawa to make the final decision.

However, I strongly disagree with Mr. Justin Harbord of Victoria, the re-elected president of the B.C. Insurance Agents Association, who in March was reported in your paper as being against compulsory tests, but is for increased penalties.

If an offence cannot be proved through lack of a test, the aim of the penalty is lost. Mr. Harbord's wish would only tend to increase the accident rate and the resultant insurance premiums.

I am now in California, at the invitation of the governor, to testify to the senate judicial committee, with others, in support of two bills similar to the recommendation of the Canadian Bar, to strengthen the law here against the drunk who drives.

The Californians are most generous in their attitude towards a neighbor Canadian who is trying to do his community work in this fashion.

Medicare

I feel many citizens of B.C. will agree what a disgraceful shame it is that the Social Credit government has refused to allow the people of the province a comprehensive medicare plan. There are many families who would be saved much suffering and often death if they felt they could afford medical care in the early stages of sickness.

Canada should have had a full medicare plan 30 years ago. How long are the people of B.C. going to put up with this common B.C. government?

Republicanism

I have just listened to a radio program over CBC asking if the monarchy is losing its influence in Canada. To begin with, a subject of this kind should not be tolerated or even listened to. Two of the speakers at least were Liberals. It looks to me that the Liberal Party is gradually trying to turn Canada into a republic.

"Well, if that day ever comes and God forbid, I shall move to Australia or New Zealand even if I am of the fourth generation of Canadians. ## B.C. School Grants Still a Mystery

Grants to school districts throughout B.C. will be announced Tuesday, Education Minister Lester Peterson said Thursday.

He said there is no change in formula for apportioning grants in 1965.

The budget contained a total of $77,700,000 for grants to school districts. This is $5,500,000 more than 1964, but the minister said the increase is due to normal growth in the province's school system.

DIY THIS YEAR

The grants schedule was to have been posted Thursday and it is expected the few days' delay caused by the holiday weekend could complicate the efforts of some municipalities to meet their statutory May 15 deadline for striking a tax rate.

Services Strength Reduced

OTTAWA (CP) — Defence Minister Hellyer is more than halfway to his objective of reducing the manpower strength of the armed forces by more than 10,000 to 110,000.

Officials say that in the last year 6,577 military personnel have been lopped from the rolls of the armed forces, mainly through normal retirements.

At the end of February, 1964, the strength of the navy, army and RCAF stood at 121,491. By August last year, when Mr. Hellyer's reduction program officially went into effect the strength was 118,823.

Heart-Attacks, Drunks, Addicts

Never a Dull Moment

By PATRICK O'NEILL

The emergency section of a hospital works like a well-trained army; but an army that never knows what will happen next, never knows whether it will be required to match wits with a heart attack, a sore back, a drunk or a drug addict.

It was late one night in the emergency ward of St. Joseph's Hospital. The telephone rang. Oak Bay fire department was bringing in a six-year-old girl who was having difficulty breathing.

Mrs. Diane Auchinvole, nurse in charge of emergency shift, asked a visitor to move a car in front of the hospital, to prepare for the emergency vehicle.

The telephone rang and student nurse Sharon Klitz answered it. A man came in complaining of a sore leg.

"I'll only talk about it to a doctor," he said, as Mrs. Auchinvole tried to get particulars. The other telephone rang.

Hong Kong Pair 'Adopted'

Two Children Given Chance

A chance for a better way of life, better education, and future success is being granted to two children in Hong Kong through the friendship of a Victoria couple and a provincial government.

Judge M. L. Tyrwhitt-Drake and his wife, of 514 St. Charles, have financially "adopted" nine-year-old Leung Sul Hung.

TAUGHT HIMSELF

Sul Hung's father was a farmer in his native village in China. He had no education, but taught himself to read and write.

He was 20 when he went to Hong Kong and married Sul Hung's mother. A family of six must exist on the father's wages of $13 a week, and the 44 cents a week brought in by the mother who knits sweaters.

Air Division of the department of lands and forests has financially "adopted" Tan Chung Sum, another nine-year-old.

Chung Sum's parents were refugees from communist Kowloon province. His father walked out on the family, and the mother earns $31.50 a week in a factory.

GOOD RECORD

Chung Sum is in second primary grade, and his education record is very good.

The Victoria sponsors of these two boys pay $16 a month for the child's support for at least a year.

MONTHLY LETTERS

They receive pictures and letters. The letters come with translation, and are exchanged monthly.

The program is backed by Foster Parents' Plan, P. O. Box 65, Station B, Montreal, a non-profit, non-sectarian, non-propaganda organization.

Motives of Tax Men Put Under Suspicion

TORONTO (CP) — The trend toward wider discretionary powers for Canada's tax officials is hot because it inevitably breeds public suspicion of their motives, Dr. Ralph Loffmark, British Columbia minister of trade and commerce, said Thursday.

The former University of British Columbia professor told a Toronto service club that taxpayers are being judged increasingly on whether they intend to avoid all or part of their potential taxes and not on whether they remain within the law in doing so.

RAISER SUSPICION

"This inevitably raises public suspicion about the motives of the minister of revenues and the treasury board in their decisions."

Dr. Loffmark said the trend for wider discretionary powers for tax officials had been evident for many years as governments became increasingly concerned that some taxpayers were better able to avoid a full assessment than others.

Plane Search Continuing

BOSTON (UPI) — The coast guard Thursday continued an extensive air-sea search for a plane that earlier in the day had been reported found safe on St. Pierre Island off Newfoundland.

The coast guard said it had been unable to verify a report that the plane, which carried one man, was safe. A spokesman said the Canadian Search and Rescue centre in Halifax, N.S., determined that the plane was not on the island late in the afternoon. A check into the report was continuing.

Wig Thefts 'Big Time'

TORONTO (UPI) — Police Thursday linked a $2,000 theft of some 153 hair pieces with an international ring of wig thieves.

A downtown wig store was looted Wednesday night of an assortment of wigs and police said it was possible the same gang stole $10,000 worth of wigs from another Toronto firm in February.

Bargains in Murder Offered in Brazil

RIO DE JANEIRO — Competition among hired killers has lowered the price of a man's life to about $50 in Brazil's tiny northeastern state of Alagoas. For $350 a professional assassin will contract to murder almost any prominent citizen.

Knowing this, Alagoan politicians walk in fear or become fatalistic about their life expectancy. Once again this month, erupting violence gave them reason for apprehension.

MACHINE-GUNNED

State security chief Luis Castro e Silva was shot to death in the capital of Maceio while his daughter Astrid looked on in horror. Castro e Silva was machine-gunned when he arrived at 11 p.m. April 3 to pick up Astrid at the home of her fiancé. The killers fled unseen. Political murder is an common in the backward state of 1,300,000 inhabitants that crusading politicians seeking to break the centuries-old grip of traditional landowners consider themselves lucky to survive.

KILLED MORE THAN 21

One of Alagoas's best known gunmen for hire was Joaquim Catana who is now serving a life sentence. Catana confessed to killing 21 politicians and a number of lesser citizens for prices ranging from $50 to $150. He was wounded and jailed after missing a shot at deputy Pais de Andrade.

A probably exaggerated conversation between Catana and an employer has become current northeastern folklore. As Alagoas tell it, Catana interrupted a description of a proposed victim and his habits.

"Save your breath," he said. "I already hate the man."

Bennett to Lead Columbia Events

Premier Bennett will preside at ceremonies next month to mark the official start of the giant Columbia River power project.

B.C. Hydro chairman Dr. Hugh Keenleyside refused to confirm a Vancouver report that Prime Minister Pearson and former president Dwight Eisenhower have been invited to attend.

SPECIAL GUESTS

There will be more than 100 special guests, Dr. Keenleyside said, but the final guest list hasn't been set up. He termed the Vancouver report "speculation" based upon the fact that Mr. Eisenhower signed the first Columbia treaty.

Guests will travel by special train to Nelson, where ceremonies will be held at the site of the Duncan Lake dam May 19. The following day the ceremonies will shift to the site of the High Arrow dam.

Island Responding To University Fund

Vancouver Island contributions to the Three Universities Capital Fund have reached a total of $578,880, a fund spokesman said Thursday.

He described the Island's response to the campaign to raise money for new buildings and

The campaign, which runs until the end of June, has an Island target of $2,000,000 and a provincial goal of $28,000,000.

Fraternal Despite All

By IAN ARBOL

There is a fraternal atmosphere in a coffee house crowd which exists in no other place of entertainment—and this held true for opening night at the new Secret Thursday night.

This despite the new home, still not completely furnished; the new sound system, still not completely reliable; the new lighting system, not always on the beam; the new idea of films preceding the live acts, still not adequately co-ordinated.

Everything was new and untried.

SET MOOD

But when the guitars for Don Crawford were set on stage at 9:30 p.m., these symbols set the mood.

The guitars and the singers in small meeting places throughout this continent have been the means through which the idealism of youth has found its voice.

In many senses the folk music centres are the churches of the youth. Watch the reverence of the uplifted faces.

The themes are the same (if one also includes the bawdiness in passages of the Old Testament)—both communicating with the yearning "for that which should be" together with songs of joy and celebration.

And in the coffee houses as in the churches, it is socially acceptable—without feeling the breath of cynicism from one's neighbor—to be reverent, to be stirred.

And the audience is always with the performer in his striving, and sometimes his ineloquence, burdened as his words are by the magnitude of what cries for expression, in putting across his message. For both performer and audience are searchers.

Don Crawford at the new Secret Thursday night engaged his audience in his personal experiences and his personal sense of fun, in context with the issues of the day.

He will be meeting with the people to speak and sing of love, of understanding, of brotherhood each night through Sunday, with the addition of a hoosnanny on Sunday, at 803 Government Street, above the TCA ticket office.

Five Apply to Fight Fires

Five applications from aspiring volunteer firemen have been received by the Colwood fire department.

At a meeting to Colwood fire protection district last week ratepayers were told the department is at work on regular jobs.

The topic of hiring is expected to come up at the next meeting of the district in two or three weeks.

VANCOUVER (CP)—A young man from South Viet Nam studying economics here says the only way to win the war in his country "is to win the people or kill all the people."

"Every Vietnamese is frustrated by foreign infiltration of any kind," said Peter Chau, 25.

At Climax of Holy Week

Greater Understanding Among Christians Today

By CANADIAN PRESS

The Christian world approached the climax of Holy Week today, Good Friday, in an ecumenical spirit of greater understanding among denominations.

This was the most solemn day on the Christian calendar commemorating the death of Christ on the cross.

It will be followed Sunday by the most joyous, Easter, marking the resurrection.

Jews, starting at sundown today, begin observing Passover, a festival in memory of the escape of the Israelites from Egypt more than 2,000 years ago.

The festival will be observed for eight days by the orthodox and conservative Jews and for seven days by reform Jews. It starts in Jewish homes with a ritual meal, "seder."

Protestant and Roman Catholic observances of Good Friday and Easter will be held across the land and overseas.

In Rome, where the third session of the Vatican ecumenical council concluded in November, Pope Paul will take part in Good Friday services at the Basilica of St. Mary Major. He also will walk in a torchlit way — of — the — cross procession.

Thousands of pilgrims converged on both Rome and the Holy Land for Good Friday observances.

On Easter, the Pope will deliver his traditional message of blessing to the world. He also will celebrate masses at the Church of St. Francis, at Acilia, south of Rome, and on the steps of St. Peter's Basilica.

Pope Paul VI opened Easter week holy Thursday by celebrating special "last supper" mass.

He washed the feet of 12 physically — handicapped youths to commemorate Christ's washing of the feet of the 12 apostles.

The Pope celebrated the holy Thursday mass in the Patriarchal Archbasilica of St. John Lateran, his cathedral as bishop of Rome. Many in the crowded church were foreign tourists.

After the gospel was sung, the Pontiff delivered a sermon during which he spoke of the significance of the Last Supper and the eucharist.

Meanwhile, pilgrims and tourists poured into Jerusalem for the traditional Easter ceremonies in the Holy City.

About 10,000 had arrived by nightfall Thursday and it was expected more than 15,000 would be in the city for solemn rites marking Good Friday.

Celebrations this weekend are by Christians observing the Western calendar. The Eastern church marks the crucifixion and resurrection of Jesus Christ later.

The Catholic patriarch of Jerusalem, Patriarch Alberto Gori, said a holy Thursday pontifical mass at the Church of the Holy Sepulchre.

This was followed by a procession carrying the eucharist three times around the holy sepulchre and once around the anointing stone.

The church and courtyard in front were packed with thousands of pilgrims from all parts of the world.

Apart from Jerusalem, other sites in the Holy Land bustled with activity. Pilgrims crowded into the church of the nativity at Bethlehem.

The Mandelbaum Gate separating the Jordan and Israeli sectors of the divided city opened Thursday to let 153 Samaritans living in Israel into Jordan.

Two Morning Services Planned in City Parks

By IAN ARROL.

The trumpets shall sound at 7:45 a.m. Sunday in Beacon Hill Park to herald the good news of the Resurrection.

Thus shall commence the 22nd annual community sunrise service of Victoria Camp, the Gideons International in Canada.

Meanwhile a young people's Easter sunrise service will have been concluded on the summit of Mount Douglas.

This service, to start at 6 a.m., is being sponsored by Victoria Kairos, a United Church young people's organization. They have extended an invitation to "all young people for the interdenominational service" at which Chaplain Clifford White, RCN, will speak on a New Life Arising.

Coffee and toast will be served the mountain-top worshippers after the hour-long service.

An Easter sunrise service will also be held in Esquimalt.

The meeting place in Highrock Cairn and the time 7 a.m.

Taking part in the service will be Capt. Gareth Douglas, Salvation Army; Rev. J. Anthony Roberts, St. Paul's Anglican; and Rev. G. Howard Turpin, Esquimalt United.

The Victoria Salvation Army will play a prominent part, together with Gideons and others, in the Beacon Hill service, which will be held on the high, rocky ground just east of the roadway entering the park from the corner of Douglas and Michigan.

The Easter message will be given by Dr. Donald R. Horton, song leader will be Capt. Donald McMillan, commanding officer of the Citadel Corps, and the bandmaster will be Roy Cornick.

A public address system will broadcast the service to those who wish to stay in their cars. "Everyone is invited to attend."

Trumpeters And Organ At Cathedral

Easter Sunday morning music for two trumpets and organ will be presented in Christ Church Cathedral at 10:35 a.m. by trumpeters David Fisher and Garvin Bruner and organist Richard Proudman.

Works to be heard are Jeremiah Clarke's Trumpet Voluntary, Purcell's Sonata in D and Handel's "Let the Bright Seraphim." For the latter, the two trumpeters will be positioned at opposite sides

Hull, 'Scooters' Scuttle Good Ship Red Wing

DETROIT (CP)—Bobby Hull combined with Chicago's "scooter" line to lead the Black Hawks to a 4-2 win over Detroit Red Wings Thursday night and a berth in the Stanley Cup finals for the first time in four years.

The Hawks were trailing 2-0 Thursday night at the end of the opening frame and appeared to have left all their fight in Chicago. The Wings dominated the period for the first 20 minutes and it looked as if they were headed for an easy victory.

However, Hull counted at the 8:32 mark of the second and completely changed the complexion of the game. His goal seemed to set fire to the Hawks and they continued to gain momentum until they were all over the Wings.

Mohs tied the score at 18:09 of the period and the goal seemed to take all the fight out of a tired Detroit club.

Mikita, the NHL scoring champ this season, registered his third of the series at 9:42 and Nesterenko, with his second, scored the insurance marker to end the season for the Wings, league champions. After 30 minutes of standup hockey, the Wings began to show the fatigue that hit them late in the second period of the sixth game in Chicago when they lost 4-0.

They stopped checking and skating and began making defensive mistakes and the Hawks were able to capitalize on them. The last spoiled a brilliant goaltending performance by Roger Crozier, who made 29 stops for the Wings. Crozier was particularly spectacular in the final two periods when he was called on to make 12 and 10 stops respectively.

Veteran goalie Glenn Hall stopped 21 drives for the Hawks, but came up with the necessary key saves, including one with Bruce MacGregor in on a breakaway, to lock up the win for the Hawks.

The seventh and final game of the best-of-seven set saw Hull register his eighth goal of the series, enabling him to tie the record for most goals in a semi-final, held jointly by himself, Jerry Toppazzini and Gordie Howe.

Stan Mikita, Doug Mohs and Eric Nesterenko were the other scorers for Chicago.

Norm Ullman, with his sixth of the series, and Howe, with his fourth, counted for the Wings.

STARTS SATURDAY

The Hawks will open their best-of-seven final series against the Canadiens in Montreal Saturday night, the seventh time the Hawks have been in the finals since the National Hockey League's inauguration in 1927. They last won the cup in 1961, their third cup win.

Montreal made it to the finals by defeating defending Stanley Cup champion Toronto Maple Leafs in six games.

QUICK GOALS

The Wings wasted little time in taking advantage of a cross-checking penalty to Nesterenko at 6:35 of the first period, with Ullman scoring just nine seconds later.

He took a goalmouth pass from Floyd Smith and batted it into the corner to Hull's left while the Chicago goalie was still down after stopping a shot.

With Detroit pressing in the Chicago end, Howe gave the Wings a 2-0 lead at 16:35. His goal, which came less than a minute after he left the penalty box, was knocked in from a scramble around the net.

TWO PENALTIES

Hull's goal, a blistering slapshot from the left point, came while the Hawks enjoyed a two-man advantage. Bill Gadsby and Parker MacDonald were sitting out minors when the muscular Hull scored unassisted.

The "scooters" — Mikita, Mohs and Wharram — came to life midway through the period and Mohs tied the score on a picture play with Mikita.

Mohs streaked up the left side while Mikita carried the puck up the centre. Mikita pulled his check, Smith off to the side and then fed Mohs a perfect pass who scooted in front of Crozier and flipped the puck into the right corner.

WINGS FADE

The Hawks turned on the muscle in the final period while the Wings continued to fade.

Mikita counted the winner at the midway point of the period after taking a pass from Mohs behind the Detroit net. The stocky centre worked his way out front and jammed it past Crozier's left into the corner of the goal.

Nesterenko put the game out of reach at 14:16 after Hull had carried the puck into the Detroit end. Two defencemen converged on Hull and he lost the puck. Right winger Nesterenko, who had been trailing Hull on the play, recovered the puck and blasted a 10-foot screen shot past Crozier.

Referee Art Skov called only 11 minor penalties, six to the Wings. Ted Lindsay received a 10-minute misconduct penalty in the second period.

Detroit Too Tired In Hawks' View

DETROIT (CP)—"I think they were just a little more tired than we were," Chicago star Bobby Hull said after the Black Hawks defeated Detroit night.

The victory in the final game of the best-of-seven Stanley Cup semi-finals gave the Hawks their first berth in the finals in four years.

"It was a tough series to win, and a tough one to lose," Chicago coach Billy Reay said. "They won the championship and they played their hearts out."

RAPE REFS

But even in victory, after losing the last two semi-final series to Detroit, Reay didn't miss a chance to criticize the officiating.

"They (the officials) weren't looking very good. When Howe hit Stanfield we pointed out that the kid was out. He referee Art Skov even had Stanfield's blood all over his hand, but he didn't do anything about it."

NEVER TOUGHER

Reay, who takes the Hawks into Montreal today in preparation for the first game of the finals against the Canadiens Saturday night, said that whatever happened, the upcoming series "couldn't possibly be any tougher."

"Montreal has a better balanced scoring club, and they might outsize us in the first game because of their longer rest, but after that I think we'll stay with them."

NOT SO SURE

Detroit Red Wings weren't convinced that the loss was a matter of running out of steam.

"They just outplayed us," coach Sid Abel said.

"We thought we were in the clear when we held that two-goal lead going into the second period, but when Hull got that first

Chicago goal they were a different team."

Defenceman Bill Gadsby, who has never played on a Stanley Cup winner during his 19 years in the National Hockey League, said:

"I wasn't tired and I don't think the team was. But they got a few breaks. I deflected Mohs' pass behind our net and it just bounced up and off the glass and onto Mikita's stick. You can't beat that kind of hockey."

Right Into May

MONTREAL—If the Stanley Cup final between Montreal and Chicago goes to its seventh game, the major league hockey season will last right into May.

First game is Saturday night here as Canadiens finished higher than Hawks in the league standings.

The dates:

First game: Saturday, April 17, Chicago at Montreal.

Second game: Tuesday, April 20, Chicago at Montreal.

Third game: Thursday, April 22, Montreal at Chicago.

Fourth game: Saturday, April 24, Montreal at Chicago.

Fifth game (if necessary): Tuesday, April 27, Chicago at Montreal.

Sixth game (if necessary): Thursday, April 29, Montreal at Chicago.

Seventh game (if necessary): Saturday, May 1, Chicago at Montreal.

Transportation

Ambulance Cost Often Too High

The cost of ambulance service in Victoria is beyond the ability of many people to pay, Ald. Lily Wilson, chairman, told members of city council health committee Thursday.

Ald. Wilson may try to set up a meeting with Health Minister Marion in order to ask the provincial government to establish a service in conjunction with the B.C. Hospital Insurance Scheme.

ALSO INTERESTED

"I would suggest that you take along representatives of adjacent municipalities who are interested in this problem," said Mayor Wilson.

Private ambulance operators have been faced with drastic increases in wages, said an outline on the subject prepared by Ald. Wilson. It was so bad that in many cases they had to make employees co-owners to survive.

The government intention to include chronic care in the BCHIS would make an ambulance service more than ever necessary.

FOR CHRONIC CARE

The type of ambulance service envisaged is one which would not take care of emergency calls but which would provide transportation between hospitals where old and chronic-care cases were treated.

Shuttle service between home, hospital, rehabilitation centre, chronic care hospital and rest home was badly needed.

Glorious Panorama Gives Glimpse of Biblical History

Jerusalem Jewel in a Crown of Hills

By REUBEN BLONIN

Heights are the Holy Land's characteristic feature: the clustered hills of Judea; Mount Tabor, like a truncated cone rising struttingly out of the Valley of Jezreel; Mount Carmel, a long, humpbacked plateau stretching to the Mediterranean Sea.

The most memorable panoramas in Jordan and Israel, which share the Holy Land, are to be seen from these promontories.

Like a jewel in a crown, Jerusalem sparkles among the Judean hills. A traveller never goes to this hallowed city; he goes up to it.

Today, as in the ancient days of the Psalms, he "lifts his eyes unto the mountains."

The heart sings as the eye sweeps Jerusalem's heights from north to south, over Mount Scopus to the Mount of Olives and rests finally on Mount Zion.

The best place to see this spectacular natural tableau is from the domed tower of the YMCA in Jerusalem's Israeli sector.

I have seen it in the light of dawn, the mid-day glare, and in the dim twilight.

This is no place for the hurried tourist, for it can be saved only in a full day's watching. It must be seen as the bluish light of morning blends into the yellow haze of afternoon to be enveloped finally by the purple tint of the setting sun.

Look to the northeast where Scopus takes command. It's hard to believe that this silent peak resounded times without number to the clash of arms and the thud of guns in battle. Here Titus' Roman legions encamped in the mid-first century and the Crusaders more than 1,000 years later.

Here General Allenby's liberating army took refreshment in the First World War's late stages. And here Arabs and Jews fought just two decades ago for possession of the New Jerusalem.

Now let the eye wander to the right, straight ahead to Mount Olivet, the site of Christ's ascension, rising like an altar, where the Nazarene felt his last agony among the same gnarled olive trees the traveller sees.

For the Christian, Olivet brings the Gospel to life. It was here, according to tradition, that the disciples of Jesus watched as a cloud took him out of sight.

Olivet is sacred to two faiths. On its slopes is the Garden of Gethsemane and a stone's throw away the oldest Jewish cemetery in the world.

Beyond are the hills of Moab in a blue-grey haze, harboring memories of ancient Israelites crossing to the Promised Land.

One turns from Olivet reluctantly, longingly. To the right, southeast, in Israel's territory, is Mount Zion, the traditional site of King David's tomb and the Comaculum, the dining-hall where it is said, Jesus and His disciples celebrated the feast of Passover.

The same structure commemorates both holy places. Here the historic paths of Judaism and Christianity crossed. They still do, for at this time of the year, Easter-Passover, Christian and Jewish pilgrims mingle in their ascent up the sacred mountain.

From Scopus to Olivet, to Zion. One can take it all in simply by turning the head from left to right. And in the making of this half circle, the battles, the conflicts, the hopes and aspirations of 30 centuries are encompassed.

Jerusalem is holy and beautiful. In truth, its appeal is in the beauty of holiness.

STAN DELAPLANE Takes You Abroad

"I have forgotten the system determined in advance, so the whereby you can buy friends a charge goes on your credit card, gift dinner overseas."

This is called "Be My Guest." All American Express people don't seem to know about this restaurant. (Black tie on Friday.) The Tour d'Argent is very can Express office. You must to argue. But ask for the credit have one of their credit cards, card department. And they The amount of the bill can't be held know.

"Also, where would you send at night. (The restaurant pays their light bill.)"

"If it's summer, I go to Cherie des Lilas. Food is very good. And you eat outdoors."

"How do you arrange the tip?" Tell them you want a tip put on the bill—5 per cent, split one for the wine steward and four for the waiter. You are automatically paying the French 15 per cent service charge. So the extra five is plenty. And don't worry about the headwaiter. He's got a thumbscrew on the waiter for his cut.

"Would the same procedure apply in London restaurants?" As far as ordering a "Be My Guest" dinner—yes. But the English don't put on a service charge. So you order a percentage tip. And 10 per cent is quite enough. The wine steward will make the waiter give him his share.

"Appreciate you suggest a nightclub in Tokyo." The only one where you can bring your wife (that I know of) is the Mikado. Good show. Big place. Seats about 1,000 people. There are some 5,000 night clubs in this swinging town. All expensive and the rate of pay is not posted. They have hostesses and they don't want competition. So if you take your wife, they will hand you a bill that will make you think twice before you do it again.

"Could you suggest a night club in Mexico City?" You could try Villa Fontana with all those villas. The Belvedere on top of the Hilton. Capri with very good singers. That loud Zazara with waterfalls—too loud for me.

Nice intimate place is Rincon de Goya. No dancing but two alternating guitar groups—one Spanish, one Mexican. Add your bill. The waiter can't.

"Is it safe for two women to drive in Mexico City and beyond?" Sure. One the major highways. I wouldn't drive after dark. Road obstructions are seldom marked. A small piece of tree limb laid across a road didn't get there by accident. It can mean the bridge has gone out a few yards ahead. Truck drivers use a system of light flashes, day or night. A series of flashes probably means, "I'm coming through on a narrow bridge. Or it may mean, 'I have no brakes.' So get out of the way."

"You mentioned a hotel Melon de Ville in New Orleans. And I wish I hadn't. They've doubled the price or better in the last few years. Good hotel but about $20 or more a day."

"Can you give us the recipe for the summer wine drink called sangria?" That's sangria. (Sangria is the hot red chaser for tequila.) Get a pitcher of ice. Pour a bottle of dry red wine over it. Add three or four slices of lemon and orange. Siphon in about a cup of soda water to make it sparkle. This is a great favorite in Spain and Portugal. They usually serve green olives and salted almonds with it.

"What is the best time for the Caribbean?" Summer is when the prices drop a third to a half—and it's not dreadfully hot. But I would get a place away from the beach. Just go there to swim. They have a nearly invisible sand fly that can fly through screens three abreast. The bites can make you miserable.

Bold, Breezy Blackpool Built on Entertainment

By GORDON IRVING (CNS)

BLACKPOOL, England—This breezy northwest England town with six miles of sea promenade, gay beaches and live theatre shows is helping to keep alive the real spirit of show business in a TV-surfed Britain.

Within two weeks the real rush will start as thousands of Englishmen and Scotsmen, with their families, take up their yearly fortnight's residence by the sea.

Blackpool is bold, brassy, often vulgar, but always has entertainment—day or night. It is a cross between Coney Island and Las Vegas.

WAY OF LIFE

For the tourist visiting Britain Blackpool is not so much a seaside resort but more a way of life as the glitter-hungry thousands seek a break from the drab, daily round in the northern industrial towns.

The golden sands of Blackpool stretch for seven miles, and the crisp breezes from the Atlantic give a healthy glow to Ashen cheeks.

As a family holiday town it is hard to beat. If you can cope with the noise and bustle. Huge ballrooms cater to the dance-crazy, and thousands of small hotels and boarding houses meet the needs of people who do not wish to go overboard in what they spend for accommodations.

FRIENDLY PLACE

It is a friendly resort, with nothing ostentatious, although the cluster hotels cater well for those who wish luxury in full measure.

Over the years millions have sampled a "Blackpool vacation" in England, and every year they come back for more. A holiday here becomes almost a tradition with the English workman and his wife and children.

If it rains—as it does, alas, so often in Britain—there is no shortage of inside entertainment.

The live theatres bring the top stars from London and America, and at least a dozen important shows are lined up for the upcoming season, which starts in May and lasts until October.

One of the intriguing sights of this seaside town are the piers, which stretch out from the seafront promenade into the sea. At the end of these piers are theatre pavilions, one of them at least half-a-mile out to sea, where summer holiday shows are staged twice a night.

WORLD'S FINEST

"We reckon that the heart of Blackpool is our promenade," a town spokesman told me. "We claim it is the finest marine esplanade in the world. It preserves seven miles of England's treasured coastline and overlooks the endless pavement of beach and sea."

The Blackpool Tower, one of the sights of the town, is a giant entertainment centre with everything from a top circus to cabaret and a menagerie.

In October the yearly display of scintillating lights opens, when some $1,500,000 worth of equipment is lit up by artists and technicians at a cost of $200,000.

This annual event is billed as "the greatest free show on earth," and succeeds in drawing millions each fall to help swell even further the coffers of Britain's busiest holiday town.

The Easter Lily

By M. V. CHESNUT, F.R.H.S.

"Consider the Lilies of the Field, how they grow; they toil not, neither do they spin. And yet I say unto you, that even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these."

In the reading of these words, it is natural that one should think of the chaste and lovely Easter Lily, which has become the symbol of the Resurrection throughout the Christian world. This flower, however, was unknown in biblical times and does not grow in the Holy Land.

The "lilies" to which Jesus referred are clearly both very common and exceedingly beautiful wildflowers. Most botanical researchers are agreed that the reference is not to any true lily, for these are rare in the Holy Land, but to the exquisitely lovely and multi-colored anemone which is perhaps the most common spring flower around the shores of the Sea of Galilee.

John Gerard of London, a noted 16th century physician, herbalist and plantsman, had different ideas; he was convinced that the "lilies" were the wild Palestinian tulips. In his famous Herbal, published in 1597, he writes:

"The Tulip or Turk's Cap is a strange and foreign flower. I do verily thinke that these are the Lillies of the Field mentioned by our Saviour, for their floures resemble Lillies; and in those places where our Saviour was conversant, they grow wilde in the fields."

The Easter Lily, probably the loveliest of all presentation houseplants, is of much more recent origin. Growing as a wildflower in Japan and Formosa, bulbs were brought to England by a returning missionary some 140 years ago, and some of these were given to a fellow clergyman outward bound for Bermuda.

Surviving these two long sea voyages—the trip from Japan must have taken months even in the fast tea and silk clipper—the bulbs were planted in Bermuda, where they established themselves almost like weeds.

In growing flowers for the Easter trade, one difficulty lies in having them come into bloom on the correct date, for Easter may fall as early as March 22 or as late as April 25, and it isn't easy to hit it on the nose.

Blooming normally in July or August, the new lily from Japan was found to be unusually responsive to forcing techniques and could be brought into bloom almost any time of the year by juggling with temperatures and planting dates. This made it an almost perfect gift plant, and a substantial business developed in the growing of the bulbs for the florist trade, with most of the bulb farms located in Bermuda, Oregon and in Napoleon's exile island of St. Helena.

If a lovely Easter Lily comes to live at your house, give it a position in a good light but out of direct sunshine—at least until after the flowers fade—and in a rather cool room, around 60 degrees if possible.

As each flower opens, snip off the golden stamens with a pair of manicure scissors. It is rather a pity this must be done, for the stamens add so much to the beauty of the flower, but if allowed to remain, they shed their pollen, marring the immaculate purity of the waxen trumpets.

Try to maintain the soil in an evenly but barely moist condition, neither bone dry nor soggy wet, and especially avoid soginess in the bottom of the pot, as this rots the roots. Never leave water standing in the saucer under the pot for this reason.

SHEILAH GRAHAM Chats with the Boys

Beatles Share the Phone

HOLLYWOOD (NANA) — I just went for a four-way, whirlwind interview by phone with the Beatles in their London office. Want to eavesdrop? Here's what was said:

John: It's marvelous to be back in London, Sheilah, after four weeks of tearing around hot and humid Nassau and then dressing high on the Austrian ski slopes. How much can this frail body stand against such elements and such odds?

Ringo: It's all right for you, John, but I don't write in my spare time, and I couldn't very well carry my drums half way around the world.

George: I have a great idea. For our next film, let's ask Walter (Blumen, the producer) to shoot the entire picture in Liverpool, using all our relatives and friends. We could call it Everything's Relative or Who's Been Sleeping In My Porridge which are better titles than Eight Arms To Hold You.

Ringo: We wanted to use Stop The World, We Want To Get On, but I believe that Brando's doing that.

Paul: What's in a name—so long as they don't give John and me a title like In His Own Write we can do a song.

Sheilah: By the way, John, now that you are a literary success, do you have plans for any more books?

John: Not at the moment, but my publishers tell me that A Hard Day's Night will be released in London in June. It's written in Liverpool and very enjoyable while sitting on the Mercury.

Ringo: Somehow we are terribly vulnerable 24 hours of the day and are expected to be dignified regardless of the terrible conditions we encounter, not only in Nassau, but also in England. Nobody wants to respect our privacy, and after a hard day's night we get irritable and tired—we are human, you know, and not insects, as some people claim.

John: Sheilah, you have been around personalities for many years, and know that legends often crop up that have no basis in fact. I guess we have to be the victims of our society. Stories are printed about us that are so untrue that they become grotesque (grotesque) when analyzed. We try not to read too much, as it might affect our charming personalities.

Paul: Thank goodness we have our music. Even George is now writing songs for our company.

George: Now it's up to Ringo to write a concerto for drums, which could be called Stein Deep.

Ringo: Why does everyone worry about me? I have Maureen and a new poodle named Tiger, and I'm happy.

John: By the way, Sheilah, do you know why Capital Records doesn't print on the back of our albums who does the singing? Last year when we were on tour, many disc jockeys said that I was singing, when actually it was Paul. Over here (England), each song is explained.

Paul: By the way, we haven't written the title song for Eight Arms To Hold You, as there has been some talk of a possible change. Six of the 10 songs John and I wrote will be featured in the picture. Ticket To Ride (a single) has now been released, but it may not be in the picture as previously announced.

Ringo: Are we going to see you in New York in August? By similar coincidence we are planning to attend the premiere of our new film—whatever the title is—before opening in that ball park. Will the Jets be playing the same day?

John: It's the Mets not the Jets, and maybe they would let us umpire.

Sheilah: Goodbye, boys, my dime's run out.

Beatles: Goodbye, Sheilah. See you in New York.

JOHN CROSBY on Men's Wear Revolution

Peacocks on Parade

LONDON—Over here they're predicting a peacock revolution in men's clothes. In fact, the word prediction may be overly cautious. It's already here.

There's a place called Carnaby Street, where the Mods and the Rockers stroll off an evening just to window-shop for clothes.

I can never remember men being all that interested in what the latest styles were. In fact, there were never any late changes. Last year's styles were good enough.

Now, the Mods and the Rockers spend more time and money on clothes than they do on girls.

The wealthier and more swinging young men of London buy their elegant duds—and there hasn't been elegance like that since Edwardian times—at Blades.

Blades will stage its first men's collection, just like the Paris couture houses, in the fall. That's the way the wind is blowing, men.

We'll be sitting on all those little gilt chairs watching the male models parade with the very latest things in mens wear, worrying about whether the trousers will be up or down, the waist will be high or low, the pockets slashed or straight.

Meanwhile, as the fall collection and the spring collection are being taken up by the men, the women seem to be—at long last—losing interest in the damned business.

In the New Statesman, Emma Tennant asks, "The new Paris fashions have come and gone and who—outside the industry—cares?"

But while common sense seems to be overlooking the women, what's happening on our side of the slide, fellows?

Well, Vogue is starting a men's supplement for men's fashions, that's what's happening. If this continued at the present rate, in about 20 years we'll have taken over Vogue and the women will have the supplement.

Eugenia Sheppard, the high priestess of fashion, says young French designers are now all invading ready-to-wear. They have no interest in couture.

Meanwhile, some of the big couture designers like Pierre Cardin are starting to design for men's clothes. They're not exactly deserting the women's field—not yet, anyway—but they're keeping a foot in both camps.

I don't know what Blades is going to show in its fall collection, but the advance word is that it'll be startling. I have seen some of the clothes on the racks at Blades—velvet dinner jackets with mandarin collars and no buttons, corduroy suits with waspish pants and slashed pockets, and other elegancies too numerous to mention.

According to the fashion editors, pale silver grey suits are coming next year. They'll be double-breasted and buttoned practically up to the neck. Trousers will be wider. (Well, that's what they'll be wearing here. You won't see all this in North America for a couple of years.)

One of the men's designers here says the next thing that's going to happen in the business is the use of materials, particularly light ones, which had previously only been used for women's clothes, being transplanted to the men's fields.

He predicts the knitted suit is going to be very big. Looks like tweed but fits the body like a glove. Well, that's what the man says.

I suppose the time is not far off when two men encountering each other at a dinner party both wearing identical dinner jackets will burst into tears.

French Live By the Stars

PARIS (OFNS)—Harold Wilson, the British prime minister, who was born under the sign of Pisces (February 20 to March 19), "will visit Russia and perhaps China, but the reasons for his journey are a secret because the moon is in its ninth aspect." So says the latest issue of the French monthly magazine Horoscope.

The article adds that Wilson, who is 49, "had better hurry, otherwise evil winds will remove him in June or October."

Such political predictions are common in France, where interest in the occult is flourishing as never before.

In Paris alone there are 10,000 fortune tellers—or one for every 800 inhabitants. This is twice the number of doctors, five times the number of priests, and 30 times the number of psychoanalysts and psychiatrists.

There are 500,000 practicing astrologers, palmists and mediums throughout France who, according to the most recent estimate, receive a total of $500,000,000 from their clients. Yet fortune-telling is forbidden by law and condemned by the church.

Finalists Named For Queen

Five Victoria people had the pleasant job in the city Thursday, choosing the 10 finalists in the Victoria Jaycee-sponsored Miss Victoria contest.

Judges William Armstrong, Lundy Sanderson, Dorothy Wronowski, Earl Dicknoether, and Nona Damaske saw the candidates for the first time at the Empress Thursday.

15 OUT OF 19

Out of 19 contestants they chose finalists Lona Donaldson, 20; Leila Lammatta, 18; Marilyn McLean, 18; Lynda Mair, 18; Gail Marshall, 19; Gloria Hill, 18; Candy Mitchell, 18; Patricia St. Denis, 20; Helen Sewell, 18; and Cathie Tranter-Bowen, 21.

Miss Victoria will be chosen May 22, during the Jaycees Victoria Exhibition.

Jury Blames Cyclist

Own Neglect Led to Death

Death of a Tahiti man during an April 8 mercy flight to Victoria was the result of injuries caused by his own negligence, a coroner's jury ruled Wednesday.

Italian-born Victor Catazza, 32, suffered a ruptured spleen April 7 when the motorcycle he was riding toward Tahiti smashed into an oncoming truck.

FLOWN BY COPTER

Early the following day he was flown by helicopter to Victoria from hospital in Campbell River.

Just as the helicopter was coming in to land at Beacon Hill Park, Catazza's heart stopped beating, and he was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Joseph's Hospital.

PASSING VEHICLE

A city coroner's jury Wednesday found Catazza had been negligent in passing a vehicle at the time of the accident and also in allowing his motorcycle to be in a defective state.

The jury found there was no negligence on the part of Grapiste De Carli, driver of the truck.

Last Words Right —But Late

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Jean Gilis hit the jackpot at the Inglewood Post Office. She dropped a quarter in a stamp machine and five stamps came out. There was a pause, a little hum, then "all of a sudden the machine went wild."

In addition to the five-cent stamps she wanted, Mrs. Gilis received 483 four-cent stamps and 146 pennies.

"Then a red light came on and said, 'out of order,'" she explained, after turning in the surplus to a sheriff's office.

Fraser Test Delayed

Esquimalt-based, destroyer-escort HMCS Fraser will spend one more day off Kahoolawe Island, Hawaii, because the test she was scheduled to take part in Thursday has been postponed until today.

The Fraser was scheduled to take part, along with three U.S. naval vessels, in the second of a series of three 500-ton TNT tests Thursday.

Late Thursday, Rear-Admiral Henry S. Persons, the U.S. navy's Commander-in-Chief, Hawaiian Sea Frontier, called off the test because of adverse wind conditions.

Winds would have directed the blast at nearby populated islands, rather than the naval vessels taking part in the test.

The tests are to determine the effect of nuclear blasts on surface vessels.

Slides to Show Thetis Park

DUNCAN — A lecture and slides of Thetis Park will be the highlight of the next meeting of the Cowichan Natural History Society at 8 p.m. Tuesday, at the Agricultural hall here.

Meet Thursday

HOPE (CP) — The B.C. Women's Liberal Association will open a three-day convention here next Thursday. Provincial Liberal leader Ray Perrault will be among the speakers.

Saanichton Man

Bigamist Given Suspended Term

DUNCAN — A Victoria service station employee was given a two-year suspended sentence here Thursday after he pleaded guilty to bigamy.

Donald Alvin Harrison of Saanichton had a wife in Alberta when he went through a marriage ceremony March 9, 1960, in Duncan, court was told.

NO RECORD

Magistrate D. K. McAdam said the accused was being given a suspended sentence rather than a jail term because he had continued to support his wife in Alberta and has no record of other offences.

Duncan lawyer Jack Davis, who appeared for Harrison, said the accused had an alcoholism problem following separation from his wife in Alberta. He said the woman Harrison married here had been instrumental in helping to rid the man of the alcoholism and that he had been steadily employed as a mechanic for the past few years.

Court was also told the Alberta wife is seeking a divorce. Bigamy carries a maximum penalty of five years in prison.

Island Fairs Listed For 1965

Vancouver Island events figure prominently in the 1965 calendar of B.C. exhibitions and fairs made public Thursday.

Fall fairs include Mayne Island, Aug. 14; Pender Island, Aug. 21; and Sooke, Sept. 11. Class B exhibitions are to be held at Nanaimo, Aug. 18 to 21; Saanichton, Sept. 4 to 6; and Duncan, Sept. 10 and 11.

Class C exhibitions are in Victoria May 10 to 15; Courtenay, Sept. 3, 4 and 6; and Alberni, Sept. 9 to 11.

4-H Panel At Duncan

DUNCAN — An address by B.C. 4-H supervisor S. B. Peterson, and two panel discussions, were the highlights Wednesday when 50 leaders from all Vancouver Island centres held their annual leaders' workshop at Nanaimo discussing mutual voluntary work problems.

Leadership panel members were: Mrs. Tom O'Reilly of Saanichton, Mrs. Lillian Lord of Sidney, Mrs. Beatrice of Gabriola Island and Tom Tryon of Parksville. Organization and function panel members were: Mrs. William McDowell of Victoria, Mrs. Hamilton of Courtenay and Ken Stephens of Alberni.

Films Find Place in Sun

By MARGARET TREBETT

PORT ALBERT — There'll be no more need to black out lights for home movies now that veteran Port Alberni inventor and projectionist Gordon Jackson has perfected his most recent idea.

The basic idea for a "solar screen" was born 15 years ago when Mr. Jackson saw the need for improvements in projector screens.

Now, after years of research and development, the solar screen is ready for production and marketing. He has patented the invention, and for the past three years development work has been carried out in Vancouver and in the eastern United States under direction of a firm known as Solar Projection Screens Ltd. with headquarters in Vancouver and Los Angeles.

Mr. Jackson explained his solar screen is of an improved design.

"Tiny concave lenses (mirrors) embossed into the highly reflective surface are carefully calculated to reflect the light from the projector back into the audience area while ambient light, even direct sunlight, is reflected to the ground in front of the screen so as not to wash out the projected image."

"The tiny mirrors are only 1/20th of an inch in size so are too small to be seen at normal viewing distance. Pictures can be shown on small screens in full sunlight with an ordinary 500-watt slide projector, while larger screens will naturally require higher-powered lamps."

Mr. Jackson said.

He demonstrated his solar screen for the press as bright sun shone on the screen in front of the Capitol Theatre on Argyle Street.

Mr. Jackson said that, while lenticular screens have been on the market for some time, none have the high reflective qualities nor the design to control the light as the solar screen has.

He said it is made of a mylar or tedlar surface laminated to a vinyl base, then embossed by an expensive rolling die made to his specifications. Mylar will be used for indoor screens while tedlar will be used for outdoors.

Mylar is the material used in the Echo satellites by the U.S. space administration.

Both mylar and tedlar are thin clear plastic, much like cellophane, but very strong and durable. Clear mylar and tedlar are vapor-coated with pure aluminum to produce the highly reflective qualities required for solar screens.

Cured Seven Describe Victory

A representative seven persons cured of cancer, the film will be shown in a film called The Million Club.

Recognizing the 1,000,000 persons cured of cancer, the film was previewed Thursday at Royal Jubilee Hospital.

The half-hour color film will be a highlight of a cancer forum to be held in Central Junior high school auditorium, 1230 Fort, at 8 p.m. Monday, April 26.

Following the film a panel of five doctors will discuss cancer, its forms, causes, prevention and cure.

The doctors are A. B. Nash, J. D. Hough, J. M. W. Gibson, M. J. Lynch, and R. M. Lane. Dr. Nash will be moderator of the panel.

The auditorium seats 1,500 and sponsors hope a full house will see The Million Club and learn more about cancer.

The forum's sponsors are The Daily Colonist, Victoria Medical Society, and Victoria Cancer Campaign Committee.

The panel will discuss points raised by the film, and will deal with common questions about the nature of cancer and means of curing it.

Ralph Edwards, host of This Is Your Life, appears in the film and points out constant vigilance on the part of the public, regular check-ups and examinations, can turn the Million Club into the Two Million Club.

Dr. H. M. Edmison, director of radiology at Royal Jubilee, and chairman of the forum, showed a preview of the film, made with Hollywood actors.

Seven invitations are anonymously sent to average citizens, from cab driver to sailor, from sales girl to businessman.

The seven meet for dinner, but find their host, described only as "Mr. X," is absent.

"I love mysteries," says one of the seven, as they sit down to eat without knowing why they have been called together.

Four men and three women suddenly, and accidentally, learn that five years before, each had a different form of cancer.

And because no new signs of cancer have appeared, the seven are considered cured.

The film then uses flashbacks to deal with the signs of each form of cancer, and the human fears with which each of the seven greeted news of the disease.

The film deals frankly with reasons that hold back members of the public from getting an examination.

But it stresses the need for early discovery of cancer, to effect a cure.

As one of the characters puts it: "The only way to deal with fear is to go and find out. Most people don't find cancer but they do find peace of mind."

She adds: "If cancer is found, it's better to have a few battle-scars than to be a dead statistic."

Festival End Packed With Events

After a quiet good Friday, the Victoria Spring Flower Festival will end Saturday with a busy and colorful schedule of events.

In the morning, pilots of small aircraft will fly in from all over Vancouver Island, the B.C. mainland, and the northwestern U.S., in a program sponsored by Victoria Flying Club.

COSTUME PARADE

There will be a bevy of beauty queens in the Kiddies Costume Parade, which starts out from Centennial Square at 10 a.m.

The Victoria Spring Flower Festival queen, the Puyallup Valley Spring Flower Festival queen and the Sourdough queen of the Yukon will all be riding in the parade.

SQUARE DANCING

Before the parade starts, the 300 entrants will be entertained at Centennial Square by a children's square dancing group, the Alma Squares, directed by William Deacon.

The square dancers, dressed in rabbit costumes, will tow an eight-foot rabbit in the parade.

Victoria Boy Scouts will gather at Centennial Square at 9 a.m. They will walk along with the children, to help them if they get into difficulty.

ENTERTAINMENT

Entertainment for parade participants will be provided by Carl and Lottie Hemeon, Victoria magicians, featured performers at Fred Usher's Daffodil Revue, earlier this week.

The festival fashion show begins at 2 p.m. in the Empress. More than 80 models will take part in the show, which features spring and summer women's clothing designs from Ursula Redwood and Madame Moka, Victoria, and Canadian Couturier, from Eastern Canada.

MEN'S FASHIONS

Male models will exhibit work by Joseph Grasso, Oak Bay tailor.

Fashion show co-ordinator is Helen Beirnes. Last year, more than 1,000 attended the event. HMCS Qu'Appelle, Esquimalt-based destroyer escort, will be open to the public.

HARBOR EVENTS

Other Inner Harbor events include a rowing contest for Sea Cadets, a fire boat display by Island Tug and Barge Ltd., water-skiing display by Victoria Aqua-Ski club, and a sailpast of decorated ships led by a boatload of festival queens, including the Sea Fair Queen from Seattle.

Final event of the day, and the festival, will be the Boatmen's Ball, in the Empress Hotel. There will be no festival interdenominational church service this Sunday.

A $38,150 contract has been awarded to H. E. Fowler & Sons Ltd., to build an addition to Sir James Douglas School.

Could Cost City $100,000 a Year

Police, Firemen Gain

By A. H. MURPHY
City Mail Reporter

Police-fire arbitration board settlements were handed down Thursday which, city officials say, will cost Victoria upwards of $100,000 a year.

Firemen won a reduction in the work week from 48 to 42 hours with maintenance of the platoon system now in force, a system which the city has vigorously opposed.

There is no change in the number of paid statutory holidays which the city wanted reduced by one and the telephone allowance to all firemen remains. The city wanted it abolished.

Police won a 3 1/2 per cent wage increase retroactive to Jan. 1, 1965, and extending to June 30, 1966, and to June 30, 1967.

31 they get an additional 1 1/2 per cent.

This brings a first-class constable up from $502 to $520 a month from January to June and to $528 from July to December.

The increase is also effective for police forces in Saanich and Oak Bay.

Members of the arbitration board who heard arguments in Victoria recently were chairman George Rogers, Vancouver; George Wilkinson, Vancouver; and Paul Paine, Q.C., representing both firemen and police.

Survey of Police Starts Next Week

Saanich's police department will come under close scrutiny next week.

Retired RCMP superintendent John A. Henry will begin an intensive survey of the force's present and future needs regarding personnel, equipment and organization.

The survey, requested by the Saanich police commission, is expected to take a month.

Initial step in the study will be a short meeting between Mr. Henry and commission members Tuesday afternoon.

Chamber Boost Rejected

Request by the Victoria Chamber of Commerce for $1,000 more this year was turned down Thursday by members of city council finance committee.

With a 1965 estimated expenditure total far above that of last year, aldermen decided to give the Chamber the same amount it received in 1964—$2,500.

In its letter to council the Chamber said the breadth of its program now extended far beyond its members and included all of the community.

(She has lived with her husband Guy and their four children: Janet, 18, David, 16, Christine, 10, Peter, 8, on their bulb farm at 9620 West Saanich Road for the last 10 years) ... Marty Douglas trying to forget about an approaching exam ... Jeanne Archambault dissipating time ... Brian Chamberlain paying a fine ... Ben Chantel cursing a golf ball ... Ben Kelly feeling on top of the world ... Sylvia Candy watching a sports car race ... Adria Piper drinking coke and getting a lap full ... Murray McAlpine feeling surprised at a change of attitude.

Police Unanimous

In the case of firemen the award was majority-minority with firemen's representative Paul Paine dissenting. In the case of police the recommendation was unanimous.

Eric Simmons, president of the firemen's local, 730, said that Mr. Paine dissented because firemen wanted the starting date for the new agreement to be June, 1965 rather than October, as laid down.

City Manager Dennis Young was far from happy with the decision of the arbitration board.

"Shortening of the work week under the platoon system will cost the city about $15,000 this year as the award extends only from January. Next year, however, it will cost Victoria much more and will rise to $60,000 a year when new men finish their probationary period, Mr. Young said.

It would, said the city manager, be necessary to add 12 more men to the city fire department.

Cut Back Necessary

Mr. Young was unable to say what the award to policemen would mean in the way of increased cost to the city but he estimated that the two would amount to well over $100,000 a year.

This, he added, would increase 1965 spending estimates, already high, and make it necessary to cut back by that much if a drastic increase in the tax rate is to be avoided.

The figure of $60,000 was contested by Mr. Simmons. That, he said, was based on the wage increase paid firemen with three years' experience. For three years new men would be in a probationary period and would not receive the full amount paid a fully-trained member of the department.

Under the platoon system now in force, in all local fire departments, men work four successive 10-hour day shifts and then have three days off. This is followed by four 14-hour night shifts after which the cycle repeats.

The city has long been after a three-shift, 40-hour week system.

Probably Sunshine

Keep your fingers crossed for good weather over the weekend.

There will probably be plenty of sunshine but there is the chance of cloudy periods and even scattered showers, according to the weather man.

Temperatures will remain about the same as they are now—just over 60 during the day and around 50 at night.

Small craft warnings have been issued for the western entrance to Juan de Fuca Strait and Georgia Strait, while in other areas the wind will be light.

PERSONAL MENTION

By Dorothy Wrotnowski

Besides hunting for eggs and wearing your new spring bonnet, Easter weekend is a time for coming and going.

Here from Seattle is Mrs. Herschel T. Harding with Margaret and Dick. They are staying with Mrs. Harding's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Cullinford.

Six Weeks in Italy?

The George Tysons are back home after being abroad for five months. They left here last November sailing aboard the Diemerdyk from Vancouver and a leisurely voyage via the Panama to England.

They went to Italy for six weeks where Peggy Tyson "fell in love with Florence."

It was in Florence that the Tysons got into conversation with a young American couple and were highly amused with their reaction when told the Tysons were staying six weeks. What were they ever going to do for all that time?

In Rome, by sheer luck, they were at St. Peter's the morning the Pope created 29 new cardinals. "I have never seen anything like it for pomp and ceremony. It was a terrific sight and am glad we didn't miss it," Mrs. Tyson says.

They also stayed in a pension in Sorì, a little town out of Genoa. Here, although the place was run by an English couple, they had very good Genoese dishes, wonderful bread, good cheese, lots of fresh fruit, chicken and fish, not much meat but excellent wine of the area.

Victoria is so beautiful, says Peggy Tyson. It is wonderful to see all the wild flowers, the blossoms and just about everything else.

Singing in Italy

Another Victoria couple back in time for Easter at home are Mr. and Mrs. Ian Ross. I called Mrs. R. only hours after their return and she was in the midst of unpacking. "It's awful putting everything away and finding a place for the things we seem to have gathered on the way. Much more fun packing when you are anticipating a trip."

Last Christmas the Ross' were joined in Barbados by their son Christopher, who attends University School here, and daughter Robina, who is in school in Italy, and they had a wonderful family party.

Searching Ancestors

There's always someone showing up here searching out their ancestors who once lived in Victoria.

A Call from London

About an hour ago I picked up the telephone and was more than a little surprised to hear London, England calling. It was a call from Helen Herbert and I think she was a little homesick to hear a voice from Vancouver Island. Helen and her husband, the late Guy Herbert, he was British Consul in Tientsin, China, fled the country during the last war. On arrival here they bought the old Rhodes place at Hillbank and after Guy's death, Helen lived for several years at Cowichan Bay. Barring a couple of Christmas cards, I hadn't heard from her since she left. It must be nearly 10 years ago.

It sort of made the day a little special and I had been wondering if anything would happen to celebrate the end of my 20th year with the Colonist.

Ellen Voyer Entertained

Miss Ellen Voyer was honored recently at a shower given by Mrs. B. Siddons and Mrs. L. Girard at the home of Mrs. L. D. Fraser, 1643 Warren Gardens.

Miss Voyer, whose marriage takes place later this month, was presented with a red carnation corsage. The gifts were contained in a red and white decorated basket.

Guests were Mrs. M. Copinger, Mrs. W. Potvin, Mrs. W. Etherington, Mrs. A. McGregor, Mrs. H. Minter, Mrs. B. Cook, Mrs. R. Little, Mrs. T. Robertson, Mrs. F. Siddons, Mrs. R. Barrett, Mrs. A. Tambling and the Misses Ann Mather and Carol Thomson.

An Easter week visitor is Mrs. Donald Lindsay Woolen, who flew from her home in Van Nuys, Calif., to visit her mother, Mrs. Harry C. L. Lindsay, Rockland Avenue. Mrs. Lindsay gave a dinner at the Net Loft on Wednesday evening for her daughter. —(Robin Clarke)

For Proper Growth

Canada's Theatre Needs Appreciative Audiences

A warning that the resurgence of theatre in Canada could lead to an "ambiguous situation" was made by Mr. Carl Hare at the annual dinner meeting of the Victoria Home Economics and Dietetic Association, held in the Oak Bay Beach Hotel Wednesday evening.

"Our centennial year in 1967 will result in a terrific increase of physical facilities but all these will be ineffective if there are no appreciative audiences. Careful evaluation is needed to ensure the last essential factor."

Mr. Hare, a member of the University of Victoria's department of English, told his audience that theatre appreciation was only now beginning to appear in Canada.

"The depression killed it and the last world war helped bury it."

He cited the coming Centennial year as being responsible for "a hot house building program" that will provide theatres in the major centres across Canada. Three of the most remarkable of these, he said, were those at Charlottetown, P.E.I.; Ottawa and Toronto.

"Charlottetown's theatre in Centennial Square is a marvelous innovation with movable walls that can alter the shape of the building at will. In Ottawa, the project will see $8,000,000 being spent on an exciting centre containing three theatres. A similar program is slated for Toronto."

Mr. Hare said that increased subsidies to the arts was another contribution to the development of good theatre. "It is less spectacular but certainly no less effective. From the present grant of $600,000 for Canada's 22 performing companies, we see a rise to $2,000,000."

Another contribution to the theatre's growth was the development of the National Theatre School. "It has been developing painfully during the past five years and its graduates are now appearing on the market, resulting in a steady flow of competent, well-trained actors."

Also listed as beneficial influences were the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation and the formation of theatre departments in various universities.

The Canada Council also was helping theatre with its program of fellowship by which eight trainees are studying theatre management under competent professionals.

"But," summarised Mr. Hare, "all these programs will be useless if there are no audiences to appreciate the net results. To help in audience education, we should concentrate on an organized children's theatre program and ensure that adults find theatre-going an active and pleasurable thing."

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. M. Fraser and thanked by Mrs. A. B. Young.

Mrs. G. Gray said grace and president, Mrs. W. C. Horning, gave the toast.

Live Longer

COLOGNE, Germany (CP)—The German woman's life expectancy has more than doubled in a century, say the latest statistics. The girl born in 1880 had a life expectancy of 35½ years, but the girl born in 1955 can hope to reach 72.

Women still live 5½ years longer than men, on the average.

Mrs. Gray reported proceeds of $1,508.35 from the club's three-year project which saw members selling cook books of their favorite recipes.

Treasurer, Miss Joan Groves reported a bank balance of $240.64 in the general account.

Other reports were given by: Publicity, Mrs. H. Summers Clark; secretary, Mrs. G. Whitaker; program, Mrs. D. Mason; social, Mrs. R. Bradley; membership, Mrs. H. Donaldson; burlesque, Mrs. Ken Bradley; and nominations, Mrs. J. Day.

Mrs. Horning and Mrs. Whitaker were re-elected president and secretary. Other officers are: Treasurer, Mrs. Bradley; program, Mrs. J. Kennard; social, Mrs. J. Warrington; publicity, Miss Norrah Vicars; notices and program exchange, Mrs. T. R. Scrase; hospitality, Mrs. Gwen MacKenzie, and judging, Mrs. R. G. Brewer.

A cheque for $150 was sent to University of British Columbia for a bursary to be given to a student of home economics.

Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers—I was divorced seven years ago when our sons were six and eight. Their father is at present $9,000 in arrears with his support cheques. But the money is the least of my complaints. He rarely exercises his visitation rights and the children hardly know him.

Three months ago my ex-husband remarried. The first thing he did when he returned from his honeymoon was to take the boys for a Sunday. He was a stranger to them. They asked me not to make them go with him again. I insisted, however, two weeks later—and they were miserable.

Should I continue to insist that they go with their father? They are ill at ease with him and I suspect they do not like his new wife. I need your help. — NO MIRACLE WORKER.

Dear Miracle Worker: You cannot force boys 13 and 15 years of age to go with their father if they don't want to. Do reason with them, however, and make an honest effort to get them to go.

After another four or five visits, if they do not go willingly, it will be apparent to their father that he has lost them and I suspect he will give up.

Dear Ann Landers: My wife's family are grand people but they include horseplay among their inalienable rights.

Two years ago they broke up our wedding reception by attempting to "kidnap" my bride right out of the receiving line. They tried to throw her in the back of the pick-up truck which was parked in the alley. My wife and I planned and paid for the wedding ourselves and we were furious when they turned it into a slapstick comedy.

Now my wife's younger sister is being married. The family claims want to paint "HELP ME" on the soles of the groom's shoes to amuse the guests during the kneeling ceremony.

Tell us, please, how much fun is the family entitled to?—THE RDC'S.

Dear RDC's: Not THAT much. Some clods forget that a wedding is a religious ceremony and these cheap and tasteless gags are not only tasteless but they rob the bride and groom of the respect and dignity they deserve.

Dear Ann Landers: We were two nice kids who wanted to spend our evenings at home playing records, or watching TV, eating popcorn and holding hands.

I was 17 and a high school senior. He was one year older. I received my diploma wearing a graduation gown which I filled out completely because I was seven months pregnant.

Today, four years later, I wish I hadn't been so sure I knew all the answers. We have our own apartment and the furniture is almost paid for, but the love I was sure would last forever faded after a couple of months.

Our second baby was born less than one year after the first baby. I've had two miscarriages. (I pretended to be sad, but I was relieved. Two kids are more than enough right now.)

My husband and I are trying to make our marriage work but it's an uphill fight. So much is missing from our lives. Sometimes I feel so desperate I cry my heart out and ask God why this happened to me, but I know the answer.

Please print my letter for the sake of other teen-agers. We wanted only to be close together and now we are so close I am suffocating. —TOO LATE.

Dear Too Late: I admire you for trying to make the best of it. Chin up. Girl, and keep plugging. And to teen-agers for whom it is not yet too late, I say learn from this girl's experience.

Telephone Operator Retires After 23 Years on the Job

Twenty-three years, two months, 21 days, and millions of telephone calls ago Mrs. Gladys Brock came to HMC Dockyard to work with the navy's telephone exchange.

On Wednesday she retired—to complete a total of 35 years in the telephone exchange business. She has been honored by her staff—present and past—and has received her long-service certificate and congratulations from Rear-Admiral M. G. Stirling, Flag Officer Pacific Coast.

Born in Victoria 66 years ago, Mrs. Brock began her telephone career with the British Columbia Telephone Company in Victoria 30 years ago. Later she spent three years with the company's exchange in Duncan.

The Second World War was past its half-way mark when the veteran telephone operator came to HMC Dockyard. The navy's phone exchange was then located in the basement of Building No. 9—the building that houses Flag Officer Pacific Coast and his staff.

"There was just a manual board, with two positions, with the exchange at that time," Mrs. Brock recalls, and pegs tallies taken soon after my arrival showed a total of thousands of calls daily."

Today, the HMC Dockyard telephone exchange is located in a week. Weekends and holidays see one operator for each of the day's three shifts handling outside calls. Automatic facilities handle all internal calls.

Mrs. Brock has been chief supervisor of the exchange for the past 21 years.

Now Mrs. Brock will be spending more time at her home at 2861 Craigowan Road. And there will be more time for her hobbies: gardening and bird-watching.

EASTER SUNDAY 1965

A great day to discover how little long distance costs

How much is a voice worth?

That depends on who is speaking, and from where. On this special day, the voices of loved ones, perhaps from hundreds of miles away, have a special place in our hearts. Memories are sharpened; experiences recaptured. It is a time when togetherness can mean so much and, as always, at such little cost.

Long distance rates are among the very few items of personal expenditure that have actually been reduced, over the years. And after 6 p.m. each evening (and all day Sunday), they are cheaper by about one-fifth.

Check the rates for yourself in your telephone directory or dial "O" and ask the operator. You'll be surprised how little it costs to enjoy "the next best thing to being there." For instance you can call from Vancouver to Prince George in the evening for $1.35; or from New Westminster to Calgary for $1.50; or from Victoria to Toronto for $2.35.*

It costs so little to discover how much these experiences mean—to you, and to those with whom you talk. Today, there's more reason than ever to use Long Distance for all its worth.

Child Art Presents Unusual Viewpoint

By INA D. D. UNTHOFF
It is the opinion of some art experts that the drawings and paintings by Canadian children are the most impressive among those done by the white races, that child art in Canada is a revelation which should neither be cramped nor exploited; its growth and meaning must be watched, as it may bring imagination into Canadian life and education.

But the task of fitting the child's changing point of view into a school program is a difficult one. A young child can present in no uncertain ways his opinions and his individual experiences.

Like any other primitive form of art, child art is mostly intuitive in its early stages. It is not a matter of skill and technique, that must come later when the child learns that his tools must be disciplined to create his images.

No adult standard for teaching can be formulated without consideration of the child's own way of looking, feeling and creating. The teacher must try to look at life through the child's eyes.

I am more or less quoting Arthur Lismer here, Canada's renowned painter and teacher who at 55 years of age gets down on the floor with the children around him at the Saturday morning sessions at the Breaux Arts at Montreal and becomes one of them for the time.

The children adore him and it is amazing to see what can be brought forth from a child of the 8-to-10-year group. One is let us say, four or five years of age.

In the work of the children at the classes at the Art Gallery of Greater Victoria the same communication appears to be made between teacher and the child artist.

This is one of the best displays of children's work that I can remember having seen at the gallery. It is spontaneous, there is a distinct feeling for good color and the materials used are varied.

There are quite a few colleges shown and it is hard to believe that the sophisticated one by Grant Main is the work of a child of five years.

Then there is one by A. Rocca and one by Malcolm MacLure in the older group. The good drawings belong to

There are quite a few colleges shown and it is hard to believe that the sophisticated one by Grant Main is the work of a child of five years.

Then there is one by A. Rocca and one by Malcolm MacLure in the older group. The good drawings belong to

Different Trial Forms Elected by Two Men

Two men jointly charged with trafficking in drugs elected different forms of trial when they appeared Thursday in city magistrate's court.

Norman Bradley, 27, of Prince George, formerly of Victoria, chose trial by judge and jury. Co-defendant Robert Paul of Vancouver chose trial by judge without jury.

The charge of possessing drugs for trafficking purposes replaced a charge of possessing drugs, which was withdrawn Thursday.

After Bradley and Paul made their elections, special prosecutor Rodney Taylor asked Magistrate William Oatler not to accept Paul's application for trial without jury.

The men had been jointly charged, Mr. Taylor said, and should therefore be tried together by judge and jury.

Magistrate Oatler said that if the two men were committed for trial at the end of the preliminary hearing into the charge, Mr. Taylor should make his application then.

HEARING DATE

Date of the preliminary hearing was set for April 22, with bail totalling $12,000.

Robert Price, defence counsel for the two accused, asked that Paul's bail be reduced to $1,500. This was the figure set when Paul was charged March 31 with possession. It was raised to $5,000 Wednesday when the trafficking charge was read.

The request was refused by Magistrate Oatler on the grounds of the increased gravity of the new charge.

Anything but waxwork-like was the demeanor of Frank Ellis inside the Royal London Wax Museum Wednesday afternoon.

Police said he staggered in among customers and behaved in a loud manner. Ellis, no fixed address, pleaded guilty Thursday to causing a disturbance by being drunk.

Magistrate Oatler was told the man had two vagrancy convictions and a record of alcoholic offences.

"If you won't stop drinking you're just a menace," Magistrate Oatler said, sentencing Ellis to three months.

William Coburn, 2640 Blanshard, was fined $300 and had his licence suspended after he pleaded guilty to impaired driving.

Coburn was stopped on Blanshard early Thursday. He said that between 10:30 p.m. Wednesday and midnight he had drunk six beers.

In Saanich court, a chicken thief received a sharp lecture from Magistrate Oatler. Arnold Harden, 331 Cloverdale, had pleaded guilty last week to stealing four chickens, worth about $15 altogether, from a backyard pen.

The magistrate said that many owners regarded their domestic fowl as pets. To steal chickens and wring their necks, as Harden had done, was an outrageous, callous act.

He gave Harden a one-year suspended sentence and ordered him to pay the cash value of the chickens to their owner.

Fines of $75 each were imposed on two persons convicted at earlier hearings of theft under $50.

They were Nora Jean Ross, 1754 Broadmead, convicted of stealing a packet of frozen Chinese dinner from a store, and David Porter, 3194 Yew, convicted of stealing $2 from a milk bottle outside a house on Pipeline Road.

A man stopped his car on Cadboro Bay Road, court was told in another case, and called out to a 14-year-old girl. She went over to the car and saw he was naked from the waist down.

A charge of indecent exposure was subsequently laid against Ronald Lahtinen, 3351 Quadra, who pleaded guilty Thursday. The incident occurred on the afternoon of April 3.

Lahtinen was remanded until April 22 for sentence.

It was erroneously reported in Courtroom Parade of Thursday, April 15, that Robert W. Jampolski of Metehosin had pleaded guilty in Sooke court Tuesday to theft over $50.

He in fact pleaded not guilty to the charge and was convicted after a trial.

Bid Rejected By Steelworkers

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The United Steelworkers of America Thursday rejected as "completely inadequate" a steel industry proposal to push back the union's May 1 strike deadline.

The union asked the steel companies to "re-examine their consciences." The companies described the union as a "house divided against itself" in a situation it termed "unbelievable."

Director, Wife Made $29,145 Trading Shares of Windfall

TORONTO (CP) — John Campbell testified Thursday he and his wife made $29,145 from trading shares of Windfall Oil and Mines Limited last July and August while he was director of the Ontario Securities Commission.

He told a royal commission the profit was realized through trading in five accounts, all under different names, at the brokerage house of Tom and Barnet.

He said the trading was done because his wife had sold Windfall short and he was trying to get her out of financial difficulties.

Mr. Campbell was suspended from his securities post Aug.

25 for possible conflict of interests and resigned Sept. 26.

Testifying under the Canada and Ontario evidence acts which prevent his evidence being used against him in any subsequent court action, he said the profits were made by selling shares of Windfall short.

A short-seller is a person who sells stock in anticipation that its price will fall. He hopes to sell the stock at a high price and buy it back at a low price, thereby making a profit.

Last July shares of Windfall rocketed to $3.60 from 56 cents on rumors the company had struck ore on a property near Timmins, Ont. It fell to 80 cents July 31 when the company said no ore had been found.

Throughout this period Mr. Campbell was in close contact with Windfall President George MacMillan and Viola MacMillan, the company's promoter and major shareholder.

Mr. Campbell told the royal commission the MacMillans were enthusiastic about Windfall's chances of finding a mine.

Asked why in the face of this he sold the stock short, he said he felt the stock's price had risen on "false rumors."

"It was my expectation the stock should sell around $2.50."

Had the rumors of Windfall's ore find proved correct, he said: "I was in bad trouble... I had the odds on my side. I was gambling."

The royal commission was appointed last August to investigate the circumstances which made Windfall stock fluctuate so wildly in price.

Nine Contestants

Race Postponed For Building In Old Square

By A. H. MURPHY

All contestants—and there are nine of them at the moment—in the scramble for the Board of Trade building in Bastion Square, will be told that the race is called off for several months.

When members heard that it would cost about $74,000 to rent and recondition the interior of the building, they gave a sharp shudder and decided to defer all action at least until work begins on the beautification of Bastion Square. That will not be until autumn.

NOT INCLUDED

The $74,000 estimate does not include work on the outside of the three-story brick structure, which was occupied for many years by Hickey Carriage and Storage Ltd.

Seeking all or part of the building are:

- Bastion Square Arts and Crafts Society, which would occupy the whole building and set up a cultural centre with emphasis on arts and handicrafts, including pottery, woodcarving, leather-working, weaving, sculpture, painting, glass-blowing and others.

- The Victoria Symphony Society, which would use space for rehearsals and women's committee activities.

- The Victoria Olympic Society—rehearsal space, meeting rooms and storage space.

- Bastion Theatre Studio—teaching and rehearsal areas, offices and space for construction and storage of props.

- Island Weavers Ltd.—work and retail store areas.

- Studio of Decorative Arts—retail store areas.

- Coach and Four restaurant—coffee house and entertainment.

- Michael Williams—coffee house and entertainment.

- M. A. M. Hockelman—discotheque.

COULD BE CHANGE

After discussions, at a meeting of the Entertainment-Legislative and Lands committee of city council, it would appear that the Bastion Arts and Crafts Society, in front-runner, but there could well be a change of position in the months before action is taken.

"It seems to me that the Bastion arts group could make the best use of the building in terms of community good," said City Manager Dennis Young.

A brief from this group stated that graphic artists from all over the city would be included; that there would be active displays and demonstrations and that the plan was to make the centre complement the revitalized Bastion square as a pedestrian retreat.

If the building's interior was redecorated at a cost of about $74,000 and the front refurbished, the brief pointed out, the society hoped to maintain itself on an annual budget of about $9,000.

Questions by Mayor Wilson elicited the fact that to make necessary repairs on the building—for the society or any other occupier—would cost more than $50,000.

"Right now, in view of the fact that we have to make such big cuts in budget estimates, the expenditure of this kind of money would appear to be impossible," said Ald. Robert Baird.

Rumor Includes Suicide

Bulgaria Crushes Pro-Chinese Coup

VIENNA (AP)—Bulgaria's Communist regime was reported Thursday to have crushed an attempted coup d'état by pro-Chinese party leaders and army officers.

'Limited Emergency'

Manitobans Braced For Worst

WINNIPEG (CP)—Manitoba is bracing for what could be the surging Red River's worst flooding since the 1950 disaster.

Premier Duff Roblin told the legislature Thursday he has declared the province in a "limited state of emergency."

North, South

Waters, Winds Hit Anew

(From UPI, AP)

The twin cities of St. Paul and Minneapolis braced themselves today as the Mississippi River neared its highest flood crest on record, while to the south in Tennessee new tornadoes churned up death and damage in Tennessee and Alabama.

At St. Paul the Mississippi was expected to crest tonight or Saturday at 77 feet—13 above flood stage—and to hold that level for several days. The predicted Minneapolis crest is 21 feet, five above flood level.

EMERGENCY

Both cities are in states of emergency, and a river specialist says the long crest means dikes and bridges will be subject to "considerable wave action" and pounding from ice.

The floodwaters have also engulfed sections of Wisconsin, Illinois, Iowa and North Dakota.

Two persons were killed, at least 50 injured and about 200 left homeless as tornadoes thundered through Tennessee's Cumberland Mountains, crushing buildings "like a giant hand."

Bombers Hit

SAIGON (UPI)—South Vietnamese air force Skyraider fighter-bombers bombed targets in Communist North Viet Nam Thursday night for the second night in a row. (See also Page 3).

Earlier, he held an emergency cabinet meeting to get protective machinery rolling. He told reporters present indications point to flooding on a par with 1948.

That means, at best: "Very serious flooding" that might cause evacuation of two-thirds of the towns of Emerson and Morris in the southern Red River Valley.

Isolated flooding at low points along the banks as the crest rolls northwards towards Winnipeg.

Flooding of the Elm Park area of St. Vital in Metropolitan Winnipeg, where dikes are only 24 feet high.

Additional flooding in Metro areas outside the primary dike system.

Some flooding along the banks of the Assiniboine River, which flows into the Red River.

NO RAIN, SNOW

These predictions, the premier stressed, are based on the assumption there will be no heavy snow or rain in the next two weeks. If there is, the situation will be worse.

Winnipeg, Lyons

Crowds See Women Burst Into Flames

WINNIPEG (CP)—A woman burst into flames at Winnipeg's main intersection of Portage and Main Thursday in what a witness described as a gasoline fire.

Tom Sharkey of Morden said he was leaving a railway ticket office when he saw a woman catch fire.

Mr. Sharkey said he tripped

The revolt reportedly ended with the suicide of a cabinet member and the arrest of several army officers, including a general.

Reports reaching Austria from Sofia said an attempt to overthrow the Moscow-aligned regime of the premier and Communist party chief, Todor Zhivkov, was staged April 8. It was quelled quickly by army and security police forces, the reports added.

UNCONFIRMED

Official Bulgarian sources had no immediate comment. Western diplomats in Sofia, reached by telephone, said they had heard the reports but were unable to confirm or deny them. A U.S. legation spokesman in the Bulgarian capital said "nothing has been seen or heard" about the alleged coup.

STALINISTS

The reports, coming from independent sources, claimed the coup was launched by a number of old-time Stalinists, headed by Ivan Todorov-Gorunya, a member of the party's central committee.

Todorov-Gorunya, who held the post of deputy minister in the government, was said to have committed suicide when the coup collapsed.

One report said the group had been in contact with the Red Chinese embassy in Sofia, which allegedly helped work out plans for the takeover.

Search for Slayer Continues

Full Military Funeral Planned for Constable

KELOWNA (CP)—Plans were made Thursday for a full military funeral for Const. N. M. Bruce as the hunt for his suspected slayer continued.

Ground search parties with tracking dogs renewed their search of rugged wilderness near where the young RCMP officer was gunned down Saturday morning.

Police in Vancouver and its suburbs were also searching for suspect Russell Spears, 30, reported seen in suburban Burnaby on Wednesday night.

Spears is sought on warrants charging him with the capital murder of Const. Bruce, who died in hospital Wednesday morning, and the attempted murder of Beverly Charest, 17, recovering in a Kelowna hospital from bullet wounds to the shoulder and jaw.

Const. Bruce was shot once through the lung from close range with a .22-calibre rifle as he approached a claspboard cabin on Powers Creek, near Westbank, across Okanagan Lake from Kelowna.

He and Const. K. E. Jones were answering a complaint that Miss Charest was being held in the cabin against her will.

LYONS, France (UPI)—A

37-year-old Frenchwoman set fire to herself in Lyons main post office Thursday before the eyes of 300 horrified onlookers.

Mme. Suzanne Glacien shut herself inside one of the entrances by roping up the double glass doors at each end. Then she stuck a notice on the door saying: "My brother has been unjustly imprisoned. If justice is not done, I will burn myself alive."

Police and onlookers tried to break down the doors, but the armor-glass defeated them. It was not until firemen arrived that the doors were smashed and Mme. Glacien, seriously burned, was taken to hospital.

Rio's Japanese Told at Last

Anti-Peace Riot

RIO DE JANEIRO (Reuters)—Two members of the fanatical Japanese secret society Cherry Blossom attacked the Japanese consulate in Sao Paulo, Brazil's largest city, Wednesday and tried to kill the consul, reports here said Thursday.

Five persons were reported to have been hurt by flying chairs in the scuffle.

A similar attack was made some years ago. The Cherry Blossom men were believed to be agents of a Japanese gang known as the Shinto Remel, which used to collect large sums of money from 500,000 Japanese immigrants in Brazil.

They claimed patriotic subscriptions were needed to ensure victory for Japan in the Second World War and did not tell subscribers the war was over.

The motive for Wednesday's attack was reported to be that the consul was telling Japanese in Sao Paulo the war ended years ago.

SAANICH TAX GOING DOWN!

By GARY OAKES

Saanich ratepayers will enjoy a cut in municipal taxes this year—believed the first reduction in 20 years.

Council's finance committee unanimously approved chopping the mill rate by half a mill to 27.4 mills Thursday night in the last of two budget meetings.

The cut will mean a saving of about $2.50 to the average homeowner or one per cent of taxes in the vicinity of $250.

Partnership

Germany Wants To Join Family

WASHINGTON (UPI)—West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt has urged the West to declare Germany a full partner in the family of nations on May 8, when it celebrates VE Day.

He told a National Press Club luncheon Thursday he believed East Germany and the Russians would use the 20th anniversary of the end of the Second World War to launch a major anti-Western propaganda offensive.

CONFUSE THINGS

This propaganda would employ memories of the great conflict in an attempt to confuse things for the German people and the Western allies, he said.

To counteract "the negative consequences of a dreadful past," Brandt said, the West would do well to present a view that would mark Germany's place in the future. He said such a declaration would be important for the younger generation.

EMBOYS MEETING

Ambassadors of the United States, Britain, France and Germany have been meeting regularly in Washington to discuss such a declaration. It was understood that France has not agreed to the idea.

2,000 Youth Called For Canada's War on Poverty

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Pearson, a remarkably young-looking 67, said on the eve of Good Friday that he hopes at least 2,000 young Canadians will offer themselves for field work among the poor and uneducated at home and abroad.

He told a press conference that there has been a wide and warm response from youth and church groups and others to the government's plan for forming a Company of Young Canadians.

In a year or two, he said, he hoped there would be 1,000 Canadian youths working in developing countries alongside the some 400 members of the volunteer organization known as Canadian University Students Overseas and another 1,000 in the Canadian north and "other places" in this country.

IN TRADITION

He said he thinks the name Company of Young Canadians is a fine one. It was in the tradition of the Company of Adventurers trading into Hudson Bay and the Company of Associates in settlement of French Canada.

He announced formation of an organizing committee under the secretaryship of political scientist Duncan Edmonds, 20, a special assistant to External Affairs Minister Martin. A director and permanent staff would be chosen soon.

COMBAT POVERTY

Mr. Pearson, who will be 68 next Friday, said the Company of Young Canadians will be one means of combatting poverty in Canada.

Development of a general anti-poverty campaign would be undertaken by a special cabinet committee with himself as chairman and headed by a full-time staff of half a dozen headed by Tom Kent, the prime minister's $55,000-a-year policy co-ordinator. Labor Minister Macdonald will be vice-chairman of this cabinet committee.

The committee would analyze existing federal measures designed to provide better economic and social opportunities. (Continued on Page 2)

Own Neglect Led to Death

Death of a Tahsis man during an April 8 mercy flight to Victoria was the result of injuries caused by his own negligence, a coroner's jury ruled Wednesday.

Italian-born Victor Catazza, 52, suffered a ruptured spleen April 7 when the motorcycle he was riding toward Tahsis smashed into an oncoming truck.

FLOWN BY COPTER

Early the following day he was flown by helicopter to Victoria from hospital in Campbell River.

HEART STOPPED

Just as the helicopter was coming in to land at Beacon Hill Park, Catazza's heart stopped beating, and he was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Joseph's Hospital.

PASSED VEHICLE

A city coroner's jury Wednesday found Catazza had been negligent in passing a vehicle at the time of the accident and also in allowing his motorcycle to be in a defective state.

The jury found there was no negligence on the part of Granpierre De Carli, driver of the truck.

Saanichton Man

Bigamist Given Suspended Term

DUNCAN—A Victoria service station employee was given a one-year suspended sentence here Thursday after he pleaded guilty to bigamy.

Donald Alvin Harrison of Saanichton had a wife in Alberta when he went through a marriage ceremony March 9, 1960, in Duncan, court was told.

NO RECORD

Magistrate D. K. McAdam said the accused was being given a suspended sentence rather than a jail term because he had continued to support his wife in Alberta and has no record of other offences.

Duncan lawyer Jack Davis, who appeared for Harrison, said the accused had an alcoholism problem following separation from his wife in Alberta.

He said the woman Harrison married here had been instrumental in helping to rid the man of the alcoholism and that he had been steadily employed as a mechanic for the past few years.

Court was also told the Alberni wife is seeking a divorce. Bigamy carries a maximum penalty of five years in prison.

Courtenay

Driver Ignored Police

COURTENAY — A man who proved to be driving without a valid driver's licence for the third time this year when he ignored a police signal to stop, was fined $175 Thursday in magistrate's court.

"You seem to take a delight in defying the law," Magistrate John Ryland told Roger A. Chamberlain. "You drive very badly and it is lucky someone was not killed."

Court was told Chamberlain swerved around an RCMP constable who tried to flag him down when the accused's car was spotted travelling at a high rate of speed.

P.M.K.E. CHASED

Police chased and finally stopped the car. Chamberlain was also convicted of speeding and failing to stop for a policeman.

John Alexander Windram, 16, was transferred to adult court where he faced four counts of forgery totalling $100.

He had cashed cheques at Anco Garage, Rickson's Men's Wear, Laver's and Audio-Radio Services.

IN BRANNAN LAKE

The youth had previously been in Brannan Lake School on two occasions. He was raised to adult court because authorities felt he could no longer be treated as a juvenile. He will be sentenced April 16.

Alice Wilson was placed on nine months' probation after pleading guilty to theft under $50. She was caught shoplifting a handbag from Laver's store.

Port Alberni

Fleet Shaping Up

PORT ALBERNI — Power and paint are being added as the fishing fleet and pleasure craft are readied for the spring season.

Monday afternoon, chief customs officer Cliff Walker handed the No. 1 registration certificate for the Port of Alberni to Gus Beurling, who applied for a change of registry for his boat the Arval as soon as the port was given the registration privileges.

BUILT IN 1880

Two other boat owners have since made their applications and had crafts registered here, but because he had made the first application, Mr. Beurling still claims a "first" for the Arval.

The boat, which he has operated for 10 years, was one of three recently fitted out with new GM 453 diesel 120 H.P. engines. Others are Geoff Phillips, JuJu I, and Ted Wise's Delta, the latter, built in 1880, being probably the oldest fishing boat on the coast.

Port Alberni Marine Industries Ltd. installed the new motors in the Arval and the JuJu I, while the Delta's owner took care of his own installation.

The Arval is used as a general purpose vessel by Mr. Beurling who operates the Nahmint Fishing Lodge. He has also had his water taxi, the Susie B. repowered with a Chrysler 210 Fury, a V-8 motor which will push the little boat at speeds up to 25 knots.

Blood Clinics Next Week

A blood donor clinic will be held by the Victoria branch of the Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. and from 6:30 to 9 p.m. Wednesday at Red Cross House, 1046 Fort Street. Another clinic will be held from 9 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 4 p.m. Thursday at HMC Dockyard.

Duncan

Hospital Loan Bylaw Adopted by Council

DUNCAN — City council adopted the Hospital Construction Loan Bylaw Thursday to provide an additional $70,140 for the proposed $1,000,000 Cowichan District Hospital.

Taxpayers had approved the extra expenditure, Duncan's share of $800,000 in additional costs, last Saturday at a referendum.

10,000 BOOKS

The Duncan Public Library circulated 10,573 books, pamphlets and magazines including 4,439 children's books during last month, council was told by Ald. B. W. Cocks.

Council hinted a system of issuing tickets, similar to traffic tickets, for the owners of stray dogs is being considered.

NO ANSWER

No definite answer was given by council to a request by Duncan Teen Town officials for a two-acre site for a teen town hall. Adult advisor for Teen Town, Jim Qualie, said a proposed hall would be worth about $100,000 but volunteer material supply and labor could cut costs to $25,000.

Shawnigan Lake

Health 'Short Changed'

SHAWNIGAN LAKE — British Columbians are being "short changed" by the Social Credit government in connection with the five per cent sales tax, said Oak Bay Liberal MLA Alan MacFarlane Wednesday.

He was speaking at the annual meeting of the Cobble Hill-Shawnigan Lake Liberal Association at the Shawnigan Lake community hall.

The MLA said the government had collected $49,000,000 for health services but spent only $37,750,000 last year.

'DID NOT KNOW'

He also criticized government reaction to questions from Liberal members in the House asking for clarification of the medicare act. He said the government replied they "did not know."

"It was a scandalous thing to put before the public when the Government did not know what the act meant," said Mr. MacFarlane.

GOOD POSITION

Mr. MacFarlane also spoke about Liberal provincial executive Lawrence Jolivet who had recently revised and reorganized the Liberal Party throughout the province placing the party in a good financial position.

He stated the Liberals desire to finance the party through contributions from members and local organizations rather than seek large single contributions.

ELECTION

Re-elected to office were: Morris C. Simard, president; W. P. Mason, vice-president; J. S. C. Fraser, secretary; Lady Allan Mackenzie, treasurer; and executive members, William McMartin, John Leach, Andy Simard and Mrs. M. C. Simard.

Honorary president is Prime Minister Pearson, and provincial Liberal leader Ray Perrault is honorary vice-president.

At the conclusion of the meeting it was announced that a meeting of the Esquimalt riding would be held in the Cobble Hill Hall Friday, April 23, when guest speakers will be Ray Perrault and Douglas Greer.

Duncan Court

Four Traffic Offences Bring $300 in Fines

DUNCAN — A 24-year-old local man, Ian Lawrence Zinn, pleaded guilty to four motor vehicle offences when he appeared Thursday. He was fined a total of $300.

The offences, which all took place April 8, were: impaired driving, two counts of failing to remain at the scene of accidents, and driving while under suspension.

Court learned Zinn had struck a car on Trunk Road and another vehicle on Coronation Avenue and did not stop after either crash.

He was fined $150 on the impaired driving charge, and $30 on each of the three other charges.

The court suspended his licence for a further nine months, and at the accused's request, he will be placed on the interdict list.

A Kokalah man, Charles Henry Reader, was fined $150 when he appeared before Magistrate D. K. McAdam Thursday and pleaded guilty to a charge of impaired driving. His driver's licence was suspended for three months.

Marjory Crocker of Duncan celebrated her 20th birthday in court pleading guilty to a charge of causing a public mischief on March 27. She was fined $75.

Court learned Miss Crocker had given a policeman a false name when she was charged with operating a motor vehicle without a driver's licence.

She was convicted under the wrong name but later investigation showed she had used her sister's name and birth certificate when questioned by police.

Films Find Place in Sun

Port Alberni Man Shows Pictures in Daylight

By MARGARET TREBETT
PORT ALBERNI — There'll be no more need to black out lights for home movies now that veteran Port Alberni inventor and projectionist Gordon Jackson has perfected his most recent idea.

The basic idea for a "solar screen" was born 15 years ago when Mr. Jackson saw the need for improvements in projector screens.

Now, after years of research and development, the solar screen is ready for production and marketing. He has patented the invention, and for the past three years development work has been carried out in Vancouver and in the eastern United States under direction of a firm known as Solar Projection Screens Ltd. with headquarters in Vancouver and Los Angeles.

Mr. Jackson explained his solar screen is of an improved design.

"Tiny concave lenses (mirrors) embossed into the highly reflective surface are carefully calculated to reflect the light from the projector back into the audience area while ambient light, even direct sunlight, is reflected to the ground in front of the screen so as not to wash out the projected image."

The tiny mirrors are only 1/20th of an inch in size so are too small to be seen at normal viewing distance. Pictures can be shown on small screens in full sunlight with an ordinary 500-watt slide projector, while larger screens will naturally require higher-powered lamps," Mr. Jackson said.

He demonstrated his solar screen for the press as a bright sun shone on the screen in front of the Capitol Theatre on Argyle Street.

Mr. Jackson said that, while lenticular screens have been on the market for some time, none have the high reflective qualities nor the design to control the light as the solar screen has.

He said it is made of a mylar or tedlar surface laminated to a vinyl base, then embossed by an expensive rolling die made to his specifications. Mylar will be used for indoor screens while tedlar will be used for outdoors.

Mylar is the material used in the Echo satellites by the U.S. space administration. Both mylar and tedlar are thin clear plastic, much like cellophane, but very strong and durable. Clear mylar and tedlar are vapor-coated with pure aluminium to produce the highly reflective qualities required for solar screens.

Embossing and processing will be done in the eastern U.S. by firms which specialize in this work.

Mr. Jackson's screen has already been approved for use in indoor theatres by 20th Century-Fox in Hollywood and is now being tested for drive-ins in that area as well as in Vancouver. It has been approved for use in audio-visual work in B.C. schools.

Mr. Jackson's reel signal, another invention developed about 16 years ago and produced in Port Alberni, is now in use in 90 per cent of movie theatres across Canada, he said. A total of 12,000 of them have been marketed.

He sees another use for his screen in projecting advertising in supermarkets and for outdoor billboards.

DUNCAN — Only $400 keeps the Red Cross campaign here from going over its $7,500 quota, says chairman Harold Whitfield.

Mr. Whitfield made a special plea for his 37 team captains and 236 canvassers to complete their calls.

He also said residents and firms in the Cowichan Valley who wish to further assist the campaign are urged to send donations to canvassers, banks or credit unions.

He said the amount received so far is the highest yet and is "indicative of the high esteem in which the Red Cross is held in the communities here."

Waters, Winds Hit Anew

(From UPI, AP)

The twin cities of St. Paul and Minneapolis braced themselves today as the Mississippi River neared its highest flood crest on record, while to the south in Tennessee new tornadoes churned up death and damage in Tennessee and Alabama.

At St. Paul the Mississippi was expected to crest tonight or Saturday at 27 feet — 13 above flood stage — and to hold that level for several days. The predicted Minneapolis crest is 21 feet, five above flood level.

EMERGENCY

Both cities are in states of emergency, and a river specialist says the long crest means dikes and bridges will be subject to "considerable wave action" and pounding from ice.

The floodwaters have also engulfed sections of Wisconsin, Illinois, Iowa and North Dakota. Two persons were killed, at least 30 injured and about 300 left homeless as tornadoes thundered through Tennessee's Cumberland Mountains, crushing buildings "like a giant hand."

Rio's Japanese Told at Last

Anti-Peace Riot

RIO DE JANEIRO (Reuters)—Two members of the fanatical Japanese secret society Cherry Blossom attacked the Japanese consulate in Sao Paulo, Brazil's largest city, Wednesday and tried to kill the consul, reports here said Thursday.

Five persons were reported to have been hurt by flying chairs in the scuffle.

A similar attack was made some years ago. The Cherry Blossom men were believed to be agents of a Japanese gang known as the Shinto Ramet, which used to collect large sums of money from 300,000 Japanese immigrants in Brazil.

They claimed patriotic subscriptions were needed to ensure victory for Japan in the Second World War and did not tell subscribers the war was over.

The motive for Wednesday's attack was reported to be that the consul was telling Japanese in Sao Paulo the war ended years ago.

The cut will mean a saving of about $2.50 to the average homeowner or one per cent of taxes in the vicinity of $250.

Partnership

Germany Wants To Join Family

WASHINGTON (UPI)—West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt has urged the West to declare Germany a full partner in the family of nations on May 8, when it celebrates VE Day.

He told a National Press Club luncheon Thursday he believed East Germany and the Russians would use the 20th anniversary of the end of the Second World War to launch a major anti-Western propaganda offensive.

CONFUSE THINGS

This propaganda would employ memories of the great conflict in an attempt to "confuse things" for the German people and the Western allies, he said.

To counteract "the negative consequences of a dreadful past," Brandt said, the West would do well to present a view that would mark Germany's place in the future. He said such a declaration would be important for the younger generation.

ENVOYS MEETING

Ambassadors of the United States, Britain, France and Germany have been meeting regularly in Washington to discuss such a declaration. It was understood that France has not agreed to the idea.

To Work Among Poor

2,000 Youth Called For Canada's War on Poverty

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Pearson, a remarkably young-looking 67, said on the eve of Good Friday that he hopes at least 2,000 young Canadians will offer themselves for field work among the poor and uneducated at home and abroad.

He told a press conference that there has been a wide and warm response from youth and church groups and others to the government's plan for forming a Company of Young Canadians.

In a year or two, he said, he hoped there would be 1,000 Canadian youths working in developing countries alongside the some 600 members of the volunteer organization known as Canadian University Students Overseas and another 1,000 in the Canadian north and "other places" in this country.

IN TRADITION

He said he thinks the name Company of Young Canadians is a fine one. It was in the tradition of the Company of Adventurers trading into Hudson Bay and the Company of Associates in settlement of French Canada.

He announced formation of an organizing committee under the secretaryship of political scientist Duncan Edwards, 28, a special assistant to External Affairs Minister Martin. A director and permanent staff would be chosen soon.

COMBAT POVERTY

Mr. Pearson, who will be 68 next Friday, said the Company of Young Canadians will be one means of combatting poverty in Canada.

Development of a general anti-poverty campaign would be undertaken by a special cabinet committee with himself as chairman and assisted by a full-time staff of half a dozen headed by Tom Kent, the prime minister's 35,000-a-year policy co-ordinator. Labor Minister MacEachern will be vice-chairman of this cabinet committee.

The committee would analyze existing federal measures designed to provide better economic and social opportunities.
